UNIVERSITY REQUESTS $101 MILLION . . .

Hobson Says NU Budget Designed For Excellence

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Acting Chancellor Merk Hobson told the Legislature's Budget Committee Tuesday that the University of Nebraska's $101 million general fund budget request is designed to move the institution ahead in "a drive for excellence."

"By any reasonable assessment," Hobson said, "we occupy a middle position among American state universities.

"The State of Nebraska has a good university.

"The budget is intended to provide the next step forward in a drive for excellence . . ."

Protect Progress

Richard Adkins of Osmond, president of the Board of Regents, told the committee that the governing board's first aim in drafting the budget was "to protect the progress and the investment" undertaken through increased financing during the past few years.

"Our first objective must be to keep the present momentum going at the University," he declared.

The committee opened three days of scheduled hearings on the institution's budget request with a detailed explanation of Lincoln campus requests by President Joseph Soshnik.

After more than three hours of deliberations, the senators called it a day.

NU's $101,014,092 general fund request for 1969-71 was scaled down to $85,365,906 in Gov. Norbert Tiemann's executive budget recommendation.

$150 Million

The all-funds University request is $150,616,185.

The general fund proposal is nearly double the $54.9 million appropriation for the current fiscal biennium.

Hobson told the committee that the Legislature's budgetary improvements for faculty salaries during the current two-year period have enabled the University to retain key faculty members and recruit "an exceptionally able group of new people."

Only four full professors resigned during 1967-68, he noted.

But, Hobson said in a prepared statement, "faculty salary improvement on all our campuses must again be emphasized."

Average 7% To 9%

Action taken thus far in states with which NU competes for quality staff indicates salary increases are being granted on a level averaging from 7% to 9% a year, the chancellor said.

"Our competitive situation will decline unless we are able to make similar adjustments," Hobson said.

NU is asking faculty salary increases of 9% a year. The governor recommended a 5% figure.

Improved Services

Hobson also emphasized the need for improved teaching services for students, additional and improved library services, and the need to provide equivalent teaching levels on the new Omaha campus.

Adkins said the budget request "gives recognition to the kind of a state Nebraska is and to the limits of its resources."

The budget, he stressed, is "not a rubber stamp total of the dollar requests that came to us (the board) from the administrative officers and faculty."

Adkins noted the need to provide more funding for increased enrollment and to operate the new facilities at the University Hospital in Omaha, and the importance of faculty salary adjustments.

The Lincoln campus (both downtown and east) general fund requests total $52.7 million.

Added Faculty

Included in that total is a request for 119 additional faculty members to serve the increased number of students and to improve the quality of programs undertaken in Lincoln, Soshnik told the committee.

Some 1,300 additional students are expected to enroll at the Lincoln campuses during the coming biennium. Lincoln now accounts for about 18,000 of the University's record enrollment of almost 30,000 students.

Soshnik said the budget would reduce the faculty's teaching work load, give major impetus to further development of the computer center and particularly act to upgrade library services.

Vital Tools

Development of both the center and the library are vital tools in the attraction of faculty, he noted.

Library facilities, particularly in relation to the acquisition of additional books, have declined over a long period of time, Hobson said.

Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha asked Adkins if the University might institute a plan for "selectivity of students . . . screening the applicants" to reduce possible campus unrest.

Batchelder also questioned Soshnik about the tuition waiver program under which the University admitted 20 low-income students last year.

Additional low-income students are assisted by federal funds, Soshnik noted.

School Board Candidates Conduct Quiet Campaign

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

With no issues apparent during the pre-election days, candidates for the Lincoln school board are conducting quiet campaigns with a minimum of advertising and some personal appearances.

According to incumbent Robert Magee, who was the top vote-getter in the primary election, some possible issues have been eliminated by recent actions of the board.

Teachers' salaries were settled through negotiations, and some steps are being made to relieve pupil-teacher ratios where they are too high, Magee pointed out.

Seeking his second term on the board, Magee reported that he does not plan to campaign and is running on his record and experience.

Mrs. Joyce Scholz, appearing at numerous neighborhood gatherings and attempting to visit every elementary school in the city, is probably conducting the most active campaign of the school board candidates.

In personal contacts and literature distributed door-to-door, Mrs. Scholz is emphasizing her concern about strengthening elementary programs to "save a lot of difficulties later."

Also seeking his second term on the board, Robert Wekesser indicated that he plans to run an active campaign.

Wekesser, who ran third in the primary behind Julius Humann, declared that "basically the school board should be lay citizens," a belief he intends to stress during the campaign.

Humann reported that his campaign will include some advertising and individual mailings.

Humann, as did the other candidates, generally praised the Lincoln schools, but emphasized the need for constant review and improvement.

According to legislative chairman Robert Lohrberg, the Lincoln Education Association will not endorse school board candidates for the May 6 election as the group did last time.

Lohrberg said the committee was divided on its preferences, and no recommendations will be made to the LEA Council.

Israeli Commandos Strike West Of Suez

By The Associated Press

Israeli commandos attacked high-voltage electric lines in northern Egypt and several bridges across the Nile River Tuesday night, Prime Minister Golda Meir's office announced.

The raid was in retaliation for Egyptian violations of the 1967 cease-fire line along the Suez Canal, the announcement said.

The canal has been the scene of almost daily artillery duels and firefights for the past month. In addition, Egyptian commandos have crossed the canal several times in recent weeks to attack and harass Israeli forces posted along the canal.

In fighting along the canal earlier Tuesday, Egyptian spokesmen in Cairo claimed the Israelis suffered "heavy losses in men and materials."

The Tuesday night raid into Egypt underscored fears of a worsening situation in the Suez area expressed by U.S. Secretary General U Thant who said a virtual state of active war existed.

The Israelis said all their commandos returned safely to their bases.

Last October, an Israeli commando task force crossed the Suez Canal and blew up bridges and a power station on the Nile connected to the Aswan High Dam power complex. That time there had been two heavy artillery battles across the cease-fire line which Israel charged were started by Egypt.

Catholic Schools Won't Shift Students Next Year

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln Catholic Board of Education Tuesday night once again deferred a decision on restructuring the elementary and middle school system but promised parents that no children would be moved from their present schools next year.

The board called for a committee to summarize the restructuring proposal and two alternate plans presented for the first time Tuesday night that would implement parts of the original plan in a few of the parish schools.

Some 200 persons attended the four-hour meetisg, and many offered arguments and recommendations.

Original Plan

The original restructuring proposal would have consolidated the Catholic middle schools — grades 6, 7 and 8 — at St. Mary's and St. Teresa's, with grades 1-5 at the other five parish schools. Personnel, purchasing, transportation and curriculum planning would have been coordinated in a central office.

Father James Dawson, superintendent of the Lincoln Catholic Schools, submitted an alternate plan that would have involved only St. Mary's, Cathedral of the Risen Christ, St. Teresa's, Blessed Sacrament and Sacred Heart, if the latter wanted to be included.

The middle school was slated for St. Mary's with its principal serving as coordinator.

His third plan would have involved some cooperation between St. Patrick's and St. John's.

Kindergartens also were proposed at Blessed Sacramest, St. Teresa's and Cathedral next year.

The alternates, which Fr. Dawson said he submitted due to the opposition of St. Teresa's and St. John's to the original proposal, were heatedly criticized by board members and from the floor for the "segregation" of the city with O St. as the dividing line.

Pastors of the four parishes involved in the first alternate, with the exception of Sacred Heart, affirmed Fr. Dawson's report that they agreed with the proposal.

The indicated that the cost "would not be a great deal more than current expenditures" for the schools involved.

Although a member of the audience urged that the alternate involving only a few schools be implemented on a trial basis, the Catholic board members declared that they were opposed to any restructuring that would not affect all schools.

Withdrawals Warned

Several persons warned that parents would take their children out of Catholic schools if some restructuring is not authorized to improve the system. Others claimed that many children would be taken out of Catholic schools if the proposed restructuring is approved because some students would be attending buildings outside their parish.

The board was criticized by some for "railroading" the proposal into the system, while others charged the members with "stalling" in seeking more parental reaction and summaries of reports already presented to the board.

Noting that parents need to have some information about plans for next year, Msgr. Clarence Crowley asked the board's assurance that no children will be moved from their present attendance centers in 1969-70.

The board also was presented information indicating that plans similar to the proposed restructuring are being implemented in several Catholic school systems elsewhere and presented some preliminary findings of an attitudinal survey of Catholic parents.

Explanation Is Sought For 'Sixth Happiness'

What was the "sixth happiness" that named an inn in a widely popular movie a few years ago?

Ninth graders in a Millard Lefler English class were curious about the significance of the change in the inn's name from "eighth happiness" as it appeared in Alan Burgess' book, "Small Woman," to "sixth happiness" in the movie title.

A search for the answer, including interviews with Chinese students and studies of ancient Chinese tales, led the Lefler students to write a letter to the author, who lives in England.

His answer: the film company changed the name to make it sound better.

But Burgess did not indicate that he knew the significance of "eighth happiness."

And the students still don't know either.

By the way: Vergilius Ferm's "An Encyclopedia of Religion" describes a Chinese literary tradition dating from before the time of Christ of "eight immortals" who "inhabit the Realm of Great Purity and who move in this world in various forms to promote good and suppress evil."

College Entered By 250 Troops

. . . NEGROES FILE OUT

Denmark, S.C. (AP) — Thirty Negro students who had taken two buildings at Voorhees College at gunpoint gave up their siege and were arrested late Tuesday when 250 state troopers and National Guardsmen marched onto the campus.

The students, 25 men and five women, filed out of one of the buildings and strolled 75 yards past a National Guard armored personnel carrier to the home of Dr. John Potts, president of the predominantly Negro, Episcopal-supported school. Chief J. P. Strom of the state law enforcement division was waiting to arrest them on criminal warrants.

Asks If It's Necessary

Potts, a Negro, asked Strom, if it were necessary to arrest the youths since National Guardsmen and state officers did not have to use force to get them out of the barricaded buildings.

"They violated the laws of this state and I have to help uphold those laws," Strom said. "You asked yesterday for our help." But Strom allowed them to walk into Potts' home. When they emerged a few minutes later, Strom ordered his agents to arrest them.

The students were taken to to Bamberg County jail and charged with riot and unlawful assembly.

After the troops moved onto the campus, a faculty member, D. J Dingle, went to one of the seized buildings and was admitted. A few minutes later, he came out with the students following behind.

Arms Said Found

Some of the students carried luggage, but no weapons were evident. Police said they later found six rifles, three shotguns, a pistol, two knives and a quantity of ammunition hidden in one of the buildings.

The militants had openly shown rifles and knives when they took over the buildings. Throughout the more than 25-hour siege, they posted armed guards at windows.

Dingle and other members of the faculty were angry at the decision to send in the troops. "We were well on the way to resolving this matter," he said.

Some Reasonable

Potts said some of the 11 demands of the students were reasonable. Others, he said were not, including a demand that a Negro be installed as head of each of the college's departments. Now about one-third of the department heads are Negroes.

"Even if we were willing to go along with that, we couldn't find the people to fill the posts," he said.

Other demands of the students include establishment of a Negro studies program leading to a degree in Afro-American studies, and raising the wages of nonacademic workers to a minimum of $1.60 an hour.

At Belmont Abbey College, an almost all-white North Carolina school, seven Negro students ended a 10-hour seizure of the science building. They barred the doors and positioned themselves on the building's roof to dramatize 15 demands.

School administrators entered into negotiations that resulted in the end of the seizure, but it was not disclosed whether any demands were met.

At Dartmouth, in Hanover, N.H., about 200 students began a sit-in in the administration building, demanding an immediate end to ROTC at the 3,100-student Ivy League school.

President Denounces Disrupters

© New York Times Service

Washington — Asserting that there can be "no compromise with lawlessness," President Nixon urged university officials Tuesday to display some "backbone" against campus revolutionaries.

In a 20-minute impromptu speech to a meeting here of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Nixon used strong language to uphold what he called the principle of responsible, creative dissent and to denounce those who go beyond dissent to disruption.

"When we find situations in numbers of colleges and universities which reach the point where students, in the name of dissent and in the name of change, terrorize other students and faculty members, when they rifle files, when they engage in violence, when they carry guns and knives in the classrooms, then I say it is time for faculties, boards of trustees and school administrators to have the backbone to stand up against this kind of situation," the President declared.

Gaullist Party Backs Pompidou For Presidency

(C) New York Times News Service

Paris —Former premier Georges Pompidou announced his candidacy for the presidency of France and immediately received the endorsement of the Union for the Defense of the Republic, the Gaullist party. Although he has no avowed opponent as yet, the Socialist mayor of Marseille, Gaston Deferre, said he was available but did not announce formally. (More on Page 2.)

Halting Intensive Care Urged

London — A British public health officer said doctors should stop trying to keep elderly patients alive by intensive care. Dr. Kenneth O. A. Vickery said geriatric patients were overloading hospital and welfare services and that a minimum age should be established as a point where intensive medical care should stop.

Faulkner Seeks Premiership

Belfast —A favorite of Northern Ireland's Protestant extremists, Brian Faulkner, made a strong bid to win his party's selection as prime minister. Faulkner, although assured of right-wing backing, is bidding for support from the more moderate members of the Protestant Unionist Party.

Nixon Advocates 'Backbone'

Washington —President Nixon, in an impromptu speech to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, said there can be "no compromise with lawlessness" and urged university officials to display "backbone" in dealing with campus troublemakers. (More on Page 1.)

Claim Settlement Proposed

Washington — The Nixon administration proposed that Alaska's Eskimos, Indians, and Aleuts be given $500 million and the equivalent of two townships for each native village to settle their claims on ancestral lands. Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said this idea had less risk than an earlier one that would have let the natives share in profits from oil and mineral claims.

Direct Election Plan OKd

Washington —The House Judiciary Committee gave overwhelming approval to a constitutional amendment that would abolish the Electoral College and provide for direct popular election of the president. (More on Page 2.)

Gun Control Offset

Washington — The effect of provisions in the gun control act of 1968, which barred the importing of cheap handguns, is being offset by burgeoning domestic manufacture of the pistols or by the importing of foreign-made parts for assembly in the United States.

Pentagon Willing To Alter ROTC

Washington —The Defense Department is willing to modify its Reserve Officers Training Corps program to keep it in existence at some colleges. The department said that although it is willing to upgrade the course, it will not see it degraded and schools at which ROTC is incompatible with their educational philosophy should not renew their contracts.

President Vote Reform Okayed

Washington (AP) — A constitutional amendment calling for the direct popular election of the president in place of the present system of allotting electoral votes by states won overwhelming approval Tuesday in the House Judiciary Committee.

By a vote of 28 to 6 the committee gave the proposed amendment a strong push down the long and difficult road toward ratification. Even if finally approved, it is unlikely to be in effect by the 1972 election.

The main purpose of the proposal is to insure that the presidential candidate who receives the most votes across the nation wins. Three times under the present system the loser in popular votes has entered the White House, and it has almost happened many other times.

Fear Leads to Clamor

The fear that no one might gain a clear electoral victory in last year's election led to widespread clamor for electoral reform.

To dampen the threat of a third party candidate causing a deadlock, the amendment provides that a candidate need get only 40% of the popular vote to win. If no one does, a runoff between the two top candidates would be held.

"This is a red letter day for the Judiciary Committee," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., the committee's 80-year-old chairman who has long favored such a change in the electoral system. "The first bold step has been taken."

Celler said he will press for House action next month. It takes a two-thirds majority in both the House and Senate and ratification by three-fourths of the states to amend the Constitution.

The senior committee Republican, Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, citing public opinion polls showing 80% of Americans favor direct elections, called the amendment "an idea whose time has come." Both he and Cellar predicted it will ultimately become the 26th Amendment to the Constitution.

A major reason for their optimism was the strong bipartisan committee support. Sixteen Democrats and 12 Republicans voted for the amendment. The six votes against it were evenly divided between the two parties.

Before approving the amendment, the committee voted to delay its effective date for one year after the first Jan. 20 following ratification. The delay, intended to give all states a chance to change their election laws in accordance with the new system, was proposed by McCulloch.

ABM Critics Said Seeking Weaker U.S.

Washington (UPI) — House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford emerged from a meeting with President Nixon Tuesday and charged that opponents of the President's antiballistic missile program sought a weak and unilaterally disarmed America.

After Ford made his accusation, Depty Defense Secretary David S. Packard — facing stiff congressional opposition to the ABM program — hinted at a willingness to slow down spending on the multibillion-dollar system.

After seeing Nixon, Ford spoke with considerable heat against critics of the Safeguard proposal.

He said he sensed "a certain concert" of opposition to new weapon spending — for ABM, for a new strategic bomber and for research in the field of chemical and biological warfare.

"When you add up all these things — this total package — the United States would be seriously eroding her defenses against attack . . . and I am not naive enough to believe that the Soviet Union is simply going to roll over and do all these things these people want us to do."

Asked whom he meant by "these people," Ford singled out only Rep. Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y., an outspoken critic of chemical and biological weapons. McCarthy has called for an investigation into secret research in those areas.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield took issue with Ford, saying, "I know of no one, certainly not in the Congress, seeking to unilaterally disarm the country."

McCarthy later charged Ford with "McCarthyism" — the variety of below-the-belt attack attributed to "my late and in some quarters, unlamented kinsman, Sen. Joe McCarthy."

The truck driver received back injuries.

17 Helicopters Shot Down In 7 Days

Saigon (AP) — Despite an uneven pace of combat, 17 American helicopters have been shot down in the past seven days, the U.S. Command reported Tuesday. It was one of the blackest periods for helicopter losses this year.

The rate approached that of the early months of 1968, when an average of 72 helicopters a month were shot down during the enemy's big Tet offensive.

Eight were speedy little OH6 light observation craft called "Loaches," scout helicopters that zip along at tree-top level looking for signs of the enemy or trying to draw enemy fire.

Two In One Day

Four of these ships were shot down, two in one day, while on missions in Tay Ninh province near the Cambodian border north of Saigon. This is one of the few areas where severe fighting has raged in recent days.

The downing of the 17 raised to 2,752 the number of Americans helicopters lost to all causes in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961, with 1,093 of them shot down by enemy gunners.

Wednesday morning reports said U.S. air cavalrymen, backed by big guns and air support, killed 47 enemy Tuesday in two sharp battles in the province. U.S. losses were put at four killed, 30 wounded.

Just south of he demilitarized zone, South Vietnamese troops reported killing 70 enemy while losing 15 dead in a hot spot northwest of Cam Lo.

Bomb Hurled

In Saigon, a terrorist hurled a bomb at the City Hall steps at dawn. The blast shook the downtown area. One policeman was wounded slightly and damage was minor. Police said one of three terrorists involved had been arrested.

Other fighting across the country was light, with gunship helicopters bearing the brunt of much of it.

B52s Drop 1,500 Tons

In the air war, waves of B52 Stratofortresses dropped nearly 1,500 tons of bombs on suspected enemy bases in the jungles north of Saigon in the 24 hours ended at noon Tuesday.

The strikes ranged from 71 miles northwest of Saigon to 55 miles northeast of the capital, with the heaviest blows fell within a mile and a half of the Cambodian border.

U.S. spokesmen said the bombing concentration in the past week has been the heaviest of the war, with nearly 200 B52 raids. The aim of the stepped up bombing is to keep the enemy from reorganizing for new attacks.

Fault Found In Seatbelt Working

(C) New York Times News Service

Washington — The Consumers Union reported that its engineers had found "an extremely serious fault" in the seatbelt mechanism of some Chrysler-built cars.

The independent testing organization also reported an "inexcusable self-pollution hazard" in the Chevrolet Suburban Carryall, a multi-purpose station wagon built on a half-ton truck chassis.

The complaints were detailed in the May issue of Consumer Reports, CU's magazine.

Window-Shade Type

The retractor reel of the Chrysler seatbelts—known as the window-shade type because it operates on the same principle as snap-up shades — may occasionally fail to lock, CU said.

The wearer, it added, "might not discover the reel wasn't locked until he had been thrown through the windshield."

CU said two of four window-shade retractors had failed to lock on 1969 Plymouths bought in its auto-testing program. It said its engineers had examined one of the retractors and found a loose bit of sealing compound in the trigger mechanism.

The engineers suggested that the reel be encased in a protective cover — "a relatively simple measure."

Regarding the Chevrolet Carryall, CU complained that 16 holes were left in the floor when the rear seat and seatbelts were removed and unless they were plugged "the car could draw in its own exhaust or that of other cars in heavy traffic."

The seats are often removed to provide space for cargo. Exhaust fumes in an otherwise unventilated vehicle can cause carbon monoxide poisoning.

PAY HIKE BILL PIGEONHOLED BY SENATORS

Washington (UPI) — The Senate unexpectedly pigeonholed a House-passed pay raise for the vice president and congressional leaders Tuesday in an apparent wave of uneasiness over possible public outrage.

At the request of its sponsor, Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., the Senate voted 64 to 21 to send the bill back to McGhee's Post Office and Civil Service Committee. McGhee said he was in no hurry" to draft another pay raise measure.

Members of Congress already had won a salary increase to $42,500 a year Feb. 4.

Pompidou Given Gaullist Support

Paris (AP) — Former premier Georges Pompidou announced Tuesday he will run in the interest of continuity for the presidency abandoned by Charles de Gaulle. He received quick Gaullist support.

De Gaulle himself, however, has decided to remain neutral during the campaign to choose his successor, informed sources said. said.

The general, who stepped down Monday after voters defeated a reform bill on which he had staked his job, was reported to have passed word to his followers that he will keep silent until a successor is elected.

Pompidou's candidacy was endorsed unanimously by the ruling committee of the Gaullist Union for the Defense of the Republic (UDR) and later by a caucus of UDR members of the National Assembly.

Left-wing Gaullist leaders Rene Capitant and Louis Vallon boycotted the caucus inthe only sign of party disunity. Their defection had been anticipated.

The transfer of power to an interim president, Senate President Alain Poher, has been made without fanfare, and the country was calm.

His next move is to meet Friday with the cabinet. Dates for the new presidential elections will be set at this meeting.

Poher, meantime, declined to say whether he would himself be a candidate. A number of fellow Centrists have been urging him to run.

Gaston Defferre, a Socialist deputy and mayor of Marseille, announced that he would seek his party's endorsement to run for the presidency.

In the last presidential elections in 1965, the Socialists, radicals, Communists and left splinter groups combined to back a single candidate, Francois Mitterrand, against De Gaulle.

Agribusiness Facing Manpower Challenge Of 1970s

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

The challenge of preparing agribusiness manpower for the 1970's is occupying agricultural industry, business and college educators at the Nebraska Center this week in a National Agribusiness Symposium.

For the person who considers agriculture a declining industry a visit to the symposium is a must.

Here, many of the best known names in the business and educational world are talking about the technical training that will be required in the next decade for approximately 40% of the nation's working force.

Those who believe agriculture is only farming would soon find that symposium members appraise agriculture as an intricately woven web of businesses, including not only those that produce food and fiber but also organizations that supply and service farms, and the businesses that process, store, handle and sell farm products.

Some states are more aggressive than others in supplying technical training for the varied fields of agriculture.

5 Leading States

Much of the needed training can be supplied by two-year technical institutes and community colleges and in this field the five leading states with number of institutions are California, New York, North Carolina, Illinois, and Massachusetts.

Fred Manley, consultant for the North Carolina State Board of Education, said his state had 50 technical institutes or community colleges that offered curriculum in agricultural and natural resources.

Manley said the farmer of tomorrow will need to know more about what happens to his products after they leave the farm and he said America is turning to the community college to produce technical trained employes.

Durward Lyon, vice president for operations and personnel at Wilson & Co. in Chicago, spoke about the needs as related to education qualifications for agribusiness employes.

He told educators they should discourage the professional student, the one who seeks a higher degree just for the sake of going to school.

"These students may develop into eventual parasites and they will do your college no favor when they find out the boss is not impressed with degrees," said Lyon.

Specific Goal

He added, "You can encourage the student with a specific goal but for many students it is best to encourage them to get into the business world where they can return later for specific study if they so desire."

Lyon said that less than 25% of the students start their education in the area where they finally spend their life work.

He said that his company liked an employe to have an education as varied as possible and one that covered a broad knowledge of many subjects.

"If you got all the training in school you needed you would never get out of school," said Lyon in reminding his audience of the continued need for education in the business world.

Dr. Daniel G. Aldrich Jr., chancellor of the University of California, Irvine, said, "we can no longer think of agriculture merely as the art or science of tilling the soil. We must conceive of agricultural science as the science of man's relationship to his natural environment."

Dr. Aldrich said the student unrest on campuses that involves many of the brightest students is an expression of impatience and frustration over what the students view to be the inability and failure of their elders to deal effectively with vast and overriding issues.

He warned against a potential danger of "a great slip-off of public support for the university" if the majority of the public no longer understands the underlying public purposes for the university.

Medics Must Check Abuse Of Medicare

. . . Physicians Told

Omaha (AP) — Two nationally known physicians said in Omaha Tuesday that self-policing by the medical profession must prevent the abuse of Medicare and Medicaid programs.

The two are Dr. Dwight L. Wilbur, San Francisco, president of the American Medical Association; and Dr. Walter H. Judd, Washington, D.C., a Nebraska native and former congressman.

Dr. Judd said the physicians know which of their colleagues are "overtreating, overtesting and overoperating."

"The doctors cannot say: 'This is not my business.' If they do not exercise control, the government is going to," Dr. Judd said.

Dr. Wilbur said the "Peer system" in which groups of physicians review the work of individual physicians is "very good."

At the morning session Tuesday Dr. J. Whitney Kelley of Omaha was installed as president of the state association, succeeding Dr. Frank Tanner of Lincoln.

Southeast Student Wins First Place In Theme Contest

Robert Hewell, 18, of Southeast High School, has won a first-place prize of a contest answering the question "Why Is It Important To Be a High School Leader."

Second and third places in the Lincoln Council of Youth contest went to Sally Cook, 17, of Southeast High School, and Linda Hohensee, 16, of Northeast High School. Each will receive a $25 U.S. Savings bond.

Awards will be made at school award assemblies.

Judges in the contest were Dr. Ned Hedges, director of freshman English at the University of Nebraska; Mrs. Dorothy Olson, English consultant for the Lincoln Public Schools; and Mrs. Jean Furr, an English instructor at Lincoln High School.

2 More Benefits Planned For Girl

The fund for Janice Burton now totals $12,200 and two more benefits for the drive will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, according to Women in Community Service (WICS).

The Salvation Army will hold a benefit basketball game at that time in its community center at 1645 No. 27th and Nu Tau Sigma, a Lincoln School of Commerce business sorority, will sponsor a benefit fashion show at 7:30 Thursday in Brandeis' fifth floor auditorium.

Lexington Nixes Liquor By Drink

Lincoln Star Special

Lexington — By more than two to one, Lexington voters rejected a liquor by the drink proposal in a special election Tuesday. The vote was 373 for, 798 against in a "fair" turnout at the polls.

'Downtown Area Should Remain Activity Center'

Lincoln City Council candidate Mrs. Essie Burden said Tuesday that Lincoln should strive to maintain its downtown core as the center of business, professional and civic activities.

"We have an enormous investment in buildings, utilities, and roads in this area which ought to be protected by wise city planning," Mrs. Burden said.

She pointed out that the downtown area also represents much of the city's tax base, so that when businesses move away there is a double loss to Lincoln.

Police Probing Omahan's Death

Omaha (UPI) —Omaha police are investigating the death of an Omaha man who was found at 44th and Ames Avenue in Omaha early Tuesday.

The victim was identified as John B. Brudell, 63, of St. Vincent's Home in Omaha.

The body was found shortly before 7 a.m. in an area that has been closed to traffic because of street construction.

Police speculate that Trudell appeared to have been run over. Authorities say other evidence may indicate he may have already been lying in the street when hit.

Woman Dies, Three Injured As Car Rolls

Tryon (UPI) — An elderly Cozad woman was killed and three persons hospitalized Tuesday in a one-car accident 16 miles west of here.

The fatality was identified as Mrs. Edna Bennet, in her 70s, of the senior citizen's home at Cozad.

Sheriff Gordon Basset identified the passengers as Mrs. Glenda Hebbert, 28, of Ashby, and her two sons, all hospitilized at North Platte.

Sheriff Basset said the auto went out of control along U.S. 92 and rolled in a ditch several times.

A passing motorist found the wreckage and notified authorities.

The two Hebbert sons were in good condition but Mrs. Hebbert was in surgery in unlisted condition.

Goldwater's Son Elected To Congress

Los Angeles (UPI) —Barry Goldwater Jr., a physical and political carbon copy of his famous father, won election to Congress Tuesday by defeating a little-known Democrat in his first try for political office.

Goldwater, a 30-year-old bachelor stockbroker, built up a steady lead over Democrat John K. Van de Kamp in southern California's sprawling 27th Congressional District.

With 175 of the district's 312 precincts reported, the son of the 1964 Republican presidential nominee had 35,912 votes to 28,252 for Van de Kamp, 33, a former U.S. Justice Department official.

Goldwater voted for the first time in California last fall and Van de Kamp, although a member of the founding family of a California-based bakery chain, could not vote for himself. His residence is in suburban Pasadena, outside the congressional district.

Herb Alpert, Wife To Try Separation

Hollywood (UPI) — Herb Alpert of the Tijuana Brass and his wife, Sharon, announced Tuesday a trial separation "with no thought of divorce."

Alpert, whose band is the most popular since the era of the big bands, and his wife were married in August 1956 in Los Angeles, where they had been teen-age sweethearts at Fairfax High School.

Diplomat From Ghana To Speak

The ambassador representing Ghana in the United States will talk about recent political developments in Africa at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Nebraska Union, 14th and R.

The speech by E. M Debrah will highlight Centennial Africa Day celebrations Wednesday at the University of Nebraska. Activities are being sponsored by the Nebraska African Association.

Beemer Okays $35.000 Issue

Lincoln Star Special

Beemer — A $35,000 bond issue to house city facilities, including quarters for city offices, police station and fire department, won overwhelming approval of voters here Tuesday. The vote count was 150 for, 41 against.

Summary of Conditions

A low pressure area is centered over south central Montana with an associated cold front southwestward from the low center to southeast Idaho and into west central California. By Wednesday evening the low will be over central Nebraska with the cold front to north central Kansas and into northeastern New Mexico. The low will continue moving eastward and by Thursday morning it will be centered over north central Iowa with the front into northeastern Missouri and southwestern Oklahoma.

With the low and front approaching the area, skies over Nebraska will be variably cloudy through Thursday with showers and thundershowers occurring slightly ahead and along the front as it moves across the area Wednesday and Wednesday night. Mositure will be limited expecially over the western sections of the area with probabilities increasing slightly in the eastern sections. Temperatures Wednesday and Wednesday night will be warmer to the east of the low and front and cooler to the west.

REGISTRATION CHAIRMAN . . . Sharon Stock of Murdock prepares for event.

NU Home Ec Hospitality Day Will Feature Birthday Party

Approximately 3,000 high school students will help celebrate the University of Nebraska's Centennial birthday at the School of Home Economics Hospitality Day, May 10 on the NU East Campus.

The scene will be a birthday party where the hostesses come dressed in bustles and knickers, a proposed menu might be cornstarch muffins and amino acids, and discussion topics are mali or quiana fabrics.

Coeds dressed in black velvet opera gowns and feather hats will walk from the past to the present in city pants suits and crocheted stockings and into the future with tinfoil hats and body stockings at the fashion show held at the East Campus Union. Showings will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, May 9 and 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday, May 10.

Scientifically baked cakes, displays of the new mali and quiana fabrics, and time and resource studies will be only a few of the items seen in the exhibits and displays in all the departments of home economics which will give students a past, present and future view of the field of home economics. Exhibits and displays will open at 8:30 a.m. and the program begins at 9 a.m.

Hospitality Day, an annual event, is designed to acquaint students with the university and the School of Home Economics.

Omaha To Host Bankers May 5-6

Omaha (UPI) — Approximately 1,200 bankers and their wives will attend the 7?nd annual convention of the Nebraska Bankers Association to be held here May 5-6.

Presiding will be Henry Gramann Jr., president of the Nebraska Bankers Association and president of the Adams State Bank of Adams.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

With the days getting warmer, many thoughts turn to such things as picnics, swimming and other outdoor activities. Thus, an appropriate remark was made by one of the candidates for election to the City Council in regards to charges for public programs.

Candidate Harry (Pete) Petersen asked if we want busy youngsters in our parks, swimming pools and tennis courts or would we rather fill our state institutions. He said he felt we should not try to break even or make money on our recreation programs.

If he wins election to the City Council, he will be in just the right spot to back up his feeling. It is the City Council which makes the determination on such matters. And it is the City Council which largely dictates the changes made in the area of recreation.

★

It should be understood that there are no charges in the parks. People can use the parks free and they do so in record breaking numbers every year. Pioneers Park on Sunday April 13 was simply loaded with people.

Solid lines of cars poured into and out of the park and the area had heavy ground traffic. It is obvious that Lincoln could very well use another major area-wide park in its system, such as is proposed at the former University of Nebraska agronomy farm in Northeast Lincoln.

Additionally, charges are not the usual thing for tennis courts. A charge is made for use of the courts at Woods Park and at Normal and South, but there are 12 other courts in the city where play is free, in addition to courts that are found on high school properties.

So, we are down to talking largely about swimming. There is no question that Peterson has put his finger on a sore point in this regard. Swimming is a very popular sport and the rates were increased this year.

For children under 12, it will cost 25 cents a swim this summer or 40 swims for $8. For 12 to 19-year-olds, it will cost 50 cents per swim or 20 for $8, the same as this age group paid last year. The adult fee is 75 cents or 14 swims for $8.

There are two reasons for charging a fee for swimming. Obviously, there is an effort to produce some income by which the pools can be operated. This is to protect against a tax assessment for the facility.

Secondly, some fee is in order simply to place a value on the facility. If swimming were free, it is likely that the pools would be abused and perhaps so crowded that no one could enjoy them.

But how big a fee should it be? The trouble is that any fee will be insignificant for some and a big item for others. There is no fee that is right for everyone's ability to pay.

Our preference would be for a fee schedule about half of what it is.

★

Such a schedule, however, would require the adoption of a new policy on the part of the City Council. The council would have to agree that the pools not be self supporting and that a tax would be levied to help sustain them.

The idea of self supporting recreation programs has never appealed to us. What this does is deny such programs to many in the low income bracket, often times the families who need such programs the most.

Higher income groups can make use of private recreational facilities as well as public offerings but there is no such opportunity for low income groups. Thus, the low income families find themselves more and more deprived of the advantages of society that are enjoyed by others.

Whether he wins election or not, Peterson's suggestion is worthy of consideration by the council when it adopts a new budget for the 1969-70 fiscal year.

Folks Not Guilty; Kids Not All Bad

There seems to be an irritating trend among experts these days to blame everything that's wrong with our young people on the "true culprits" — us parents.

The reason for the youthful revolt, they'll have you know, is that WE are so revolting. As shining examples we have blown our fuses. As guardians of tender young psyches we are dismal flops.

Ask the expert (sometimes he doesn't even wait to be asked) and he'll tell you that parents these days are "lying, cheating hypocrites, obsessed with sex and obscenity."

We are guilty, guilty, guilty. And no wonder kids are such miserable messes these days. Unquote.

Well, I don't know about the rest of you parents, but I'm not buying this bit.

Not only do I not feel guilty (inadequate, maybe, but not guilty), I'll let you in on another new throught: I don't think all kids are miserable messes. Not all the time, anyway.

I'll admit plenty of them are acting the part: burning draft cards, scrawling four-letter words on anything that doesn't move (and some things that do), smashing public property, scandalizing us old folks with their new sexual freedom . . . "restless" things like that.

But how about all those others? The ones who sign up for the Peace Corps or Vista . . . those who donate their Saturdays to tutoring underprivileged kids . . . or those "wrecks" from Georgia Tech who gave up their Easter vacation to build a playground for poor tots?

Somewhere . . . somehow . . . SOME parents must have done something right.

But the critics would rather pounce on us because our children are "confused and deeply troubled" over the war in Vietnam, racial riots, college demonstrations, and hypocrisy among our politicians.

Not all our children dress up in beads and rush off to Haight-Ashbury to slump against a curb and check themselves out of the world. And yet the critics will dig deep down to Sunday-School-and-Cub-Scout days to prove we planted a bad seed in there somewhere that made all these "flower children" bloom.

We are too "materialistic," they say. We hock all we have to shower our offspring with lavish homes, "mod" clothes, sports cars and unlimited allowances — instead of love.

Maybe so. And yet I know hundreds of parents who are honestly trying to do the best job they can. They love their kids enough to teach Sunday School, lead Scout troops, plan with other parents to set up guidelines for dating, hours and allowances. They really work at this job of raising children.

Another Step Forward

The Nebraska Treatment and Corrections Act, LB1307, which could have a profound effect on the treatment and correction of criminal offenders in the state, will be debated on the floor of the Legislature Thursday.

The purpose of the bill, which implements a Constitutional amendment approved by voters last November, is to create an independent Board of Parole composed of persons possessing the essential qualifications for the office; create a division of corrections within the Department of Institutions and retain the present Board of Pardons for consideration of pardons only.

The only opposition to the bill heard during committee hearing was voiced by Lancaster County Juvenile Judge W. W. Nuernberger, who said the proposed new penal code takes "the wrong approach to handling juvenile offenders." Otherwise, the measure has widespread support from law enforcement officials in the state and Penal Complex Warden Maurice Sigler, who said the bill proposes "the best possible way to handle correction problems."

Supporters of the act note that it is a comprehensive code for the correction and treatment of criminal offenders, bringing together and coordinating for the first time all the elements of the criminal process system operating after an offender is sentenced. It also resolves three problems now faced by the Board of Pardons, which presently handles paroles: no idea whether the right people are being brought before the board for parole consideration; dependence on summaries of facts about an applicant in deciding his case at public hearing and lack of supervision over parole officers after a man is placed on parole.

LB1307 is another big step forward in the substantial penal reform undertaken by Nebraska in the past few years.

Organized Public Employes

One of the bills receiving early approval by the Legislature establishes the right of public employes to organize and requires their recognition by employers. The measure is not without its critics who think that issues between employes and employers ought to be settled on the local level.

Under the bill, appeals can be taken to an enlarged Court of Industrial Relations. Thus, wage rates for city employes, for instance, could become an issue for the court, taking it out of the hands of the City Council.

As we said, some won't like that. It is not, perhaps, the preferred way of doing things but it is an alternative. As public agencies in Nebraska grow, they will face more and more of the threat of employe dissatisfaction.

If there is no way for such employes to organize and be recognized and to appeal their grievances, then there is the possibility of illegal strikes. It seems only fair that if a public employe cannot strike, he be given at least the tools with which to adequately represent himself with his employer.

While the public sector of the economy is slowly catching up, it has for many years been behind the private sector in employe benefits. Especially in the area of salaries, government has long been known as second rate. The results of this have not been efficiency, but rather, losses due to heavy turnover and poorly equipped personnel.

The new procedure will not be perfect but it should be a contribution to better government in the future.

Lindsay's Showing In New York Election Could Be Barometer Of Racial Relations

WASHINGTON — In terms of national party strength, it may not make much difference if Mayor John Lindsay wins or loses his reelection campaign in New York City. He is not, after all, exactly a rank-and-file Republican, and he is running another fusion campaign, so his defeat would be no great party setback, nor even much of an omen for the 1970 midterm elections. That is one reason, no doubt, for President Nixon — who hopes to win congress in 1970 — to keep hands off New York and Lindsay, as he has been doing.

At another level entirely, one which perhaps can be seen more clearly from here than in Manhattan or the Bronx, what the biggest and most complex of American cities does about its political leadership this year is bound to be a signal to every politician in the land — a breed among which even the new, new Presidential model of Richard Nixon still must be numbered, and one which is acutely aware that the deepest and most powerful political issues in America now are racial issues.

And the fact is that whatever John Lindsay's failings as mayor — and his opponents picture them as extensive — he still is one of only two nationally known political figures who have been able, in the last few trying years, to demonstrate a broad rapport with the restless black masses who live in the central city. The other was Robert Kennedy, who is gone.

This achievement, it well may be contended, is not sufficient to forgive Lindsay his other failings as mayor; some argue with plausibility that he still has not developed the rounded political sensitivity to deal with all the elements of New York City's vast and varied population. Certainly, it would be overstatement to say that Lindsay's demonstrated ability to win and retain a certain confidence among the blacks of his city is responsible for all his political troubles; it does not account, for instance, for the Marcus scandal or for his conflicts with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

It is nevertheless true that Lindsay's tireless personal efforts to deal with the black-white question in New York have alienated a number of white groups that are potent politically, accounting for no small amount of his present political difficulty.

It is equally true that his defeat would be widely interpreted by white politicians as a warning not to become too identified with the interests of the blacks in the ghetto, and by blacks as more proof of what most of them believe anyway, that white politics will tolerate only so much black political power, no matter how exercised.

Lindsay's defeat would be so interpreted, that is, unless he were defeated clearly on other grounds, or by someone who had relatively equal standing in the black community. Either possibility appears remote in the present New York situation.

Whether or not he can win the Republican primary, Lindsay will be in the fall campaign as the Liberal candidate. At the moment, all those who claim to have polls, or any other form of hard evidence, rate the major Democratic contender as Controller Mario Proccacino, a hard-line law-and-order conservative. Those who go more by instinct think the Democrats will yet nominate the slow-starting, so far invisible Robert F. Wagner, who was mayor in the fifties and early sixties.

Wagner's candidacy will be along moderate racial lines, no doubt, but the trouble with it is that Wagner appears to be seeking close alliance with all the New York City Democratic organizations that are not supporting Proccacino, as well as some of the city's old-line labor leaders. This is not calculated to build confidence in the black community, which has learned the hard way about candidates with that kind of backing.

This leaves, alternatively, the Democratic candidacies of Rep. James Scheuer and Bronx Borough President Herman Badillo. Some expert political opinion rates Scheuer a real threat, even placing him ahead of Wagner's present standing, and he has an interesting ticket that includes the first black candidate on a major New York slate — Assemblyman Charles Rangel. Badillo also has a following in the ghetto and with the kind of liberals who supported Eugene McCarthy last year. But Scheuer and Badillo probably hurt each other and, no matter how badly Wagner might run, either would have a hard time overtaking Proccacino.

So the match in the fall — barring an upset by Scheuer — is likely to be Lindsay vs. the law-and-order backlash (Proccacino) or Lindsay vs. machine politics-as-usual (Wagner). The outcome of either contest would have an inevitable echo elsewhere in 1970.

Use Of Pool

Lincoln, Neb.

We are pleased to learn of the efforts by residents of Air Park West to obtain use of the abandoned base swimming pool.

The city recreation department does not feel justified in budgeting funds to repair and operate the pool because it does not know if there is sufficient demand in the area to support such a facility. Consequently, a group of private citizens propose to work with the recreation department in operating and supporting the pool until the need can be proven.

We think this is an admirable approach which should be encouraged. If it can be shown that a need exists, and the pool can be self-supporting, the entire city of Lincoln will benefit. A pool in this area should help relieve crowded pools in other areas. But most important, it will make a fine recreational facility available to more families in the Air Park West area. The family membership fee of $30 per year is within the means of most families, and should encourage the participation in an activity which is so beneficial in so many ways.

Several residents of our neighborhood, which is near Pioneers Park, have expressed an interest in using this pool rather than driving into town. Although farther in distance, the base is closer to us in terms of time and convenience.

We hope the residents of Air Park West and the city recreation department will be successful in their efforts to get this pool in operation for the 1969 season.

I have noted that in the past several years, our City Council has been blessed by having at least one practicing attorney as a member of that council. Even though we have very competent attorneys who are full-time with our city, I would think that having an attorney at the council meetings would certainly give better guidance to the other members.

I do not suggest that the City Council member as an attorney practice law on behalf of the city but at least he can direct the council when they should seek the guidance of their city attorney's office.

With Councilman Comstock retiring from the council this year, we would be without an attorney. This problem is very easily solved by electing Dick Hartsock, who is a practicing attorney, to the City Council. Dick is very well qualified in many areas but certainly in one important area — being an attorney.

Emperor Auto

Lincoln, Neb.

Emperor Automobile has a persuasive voice in Lincoln. He is urging for the demolition of a whole block in the center of the city's business district to furnish him parking space. The officials of a prominent hospital propose to destroy a structure with an estimated worth of $400,000 for parking lot purposes because it is not stylish enough to suit the professional inspectors regardless of the fact that it can serve a humanitarian purpose for many poor old people who have never in their active years lived under such a protective roof.

Small homes are being bought by the city at condemnation prices to build a mini-drive that will save a bare five minutes between Havelock and the post office. All of these points may be reached by bus, which is admittedly of inadequate service but could be good if it were not for the tax money that Boss Auto demands for his personal convenience.

Mass transportation serves a public more economically and does not obstruct traffic by all-night parking buses on residential streets. Some day the city of Lincoln may give serious thought to the broad advantages of mass travel. The bus company is making no money and wants to sell, it is said.

Emperor Auto is now trying to wangle a bond issue of a hundred million dollars to build paved roads into every farm barnyard in Nebraska, thus urging for increased salaries of engineers and stable profits for the material men — all at the command of the automobile industry.

Ev Pulls Strings For Big Money

Washington — Witty, wily Everett Dirksen, the basso profundo from Illinois, has an array of big-money interests that want wires pulled in Washington.

He is paid by the taxpayers to serve the public interest, but he does his most effective work for the powerful private interests — the big steel producers, drug interests, insurance companies, oil and gas industries, business and banking combines and others with axes to grind.

The delightful Dirksen champions these special interests with such style, however, that his colleagues in the cloakrooms and his pals of the press are loathe to criticize him. He leaves his contemporaries and critics smiling when they ought to be outraged.

It is much easier to get indignant about Roman Hruska, the lackluster senator from Nebraska, who works in tandem with Dirksen in greasing the government wheels for the special interests. Usually, Dirksen calls the signals while Hruska runs with the ball.

Of late, however, Old Ev has become more open in his manipulations. At a public hearing he threatened to get Clifford Alexander, Jr., fired as chairman of the Equal Opportunities Commission for "harrassing" businessmen. Next day, Dirksen made good his threat. The White House announced that Alexander would not be renamed to the chairmanship.

Apparently, Alexander had been pressing businessmen too vigorously to comply with fair employment practices, which is what the taxpayers had paid him to do. He was fired for doing his job.

The removal of Alexander, however, hasn't stopped the government's pressure upon businessmen to obey the civil rights laws. The justice department has filed a civil rights suit against some Chicago slumlords in Dirksen's home state.

This has got old Ev rumbling menacingly again in his wheezing baritone. Although he's a professed advocate of law and order, he doesn't seem to believe in enforcing the laws that annoy his businessmen friends.

Some of these friends would like to be free of the law which bars government contracts to companies practicing job discrimination. A sympathetic Dirksen has threatened to revise the law if the government persists in enforcing it.

Dirksen also admitted to reporters that he had blocked the appointment of Dr. John Knowles as assistant secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare "because the doctors opposed him." Knowles was too progressive to suit the powerful American Medical Association, whose medical bag Dirksen carries on capitol hill. Ev battled against Medicare and drug regulations at the instigation of the medical and drug interests.

The sonorous senator from Illinois also forced the resignation of William Driver as Veterans Administrator, though Driver had the unanimous support of all the leading veterans organizations. We have been unable to find out the reason for Dirksen's opposition to the popular Driver. It may be significant, however, that Dirksen is close to some of the insurance companies who lost the scramble for the Veterans Administration's $40 billion insurance business. Driver awarded the contract to Prudential.

It was Dirksen, too, who inveigled the President into appointing the controversial Otto Otepka to the subversive activities control board. Otepka is the darling of the right wing, and his appointment was lobbied by the neo-nazi Liberty Lobby. There is no reason to believe, of course, that Dirksen is connected with the nazis. But he was a patsy for the rightwing Flick-Reedy Education Enterprises of Bensenville, Ill., strong backers of Otepka.

Dirksen is ready to throw his considerable influence behind almost any corporation that seeks favors in Washington. A number of grateful corporations, in turn, have sought out Dirksen's law firm in Peoria, Ill., for legal counsel. But he is such a popular, personable fellow that no one seems concerned about this.

Revenue Committee Eyes Bill Designed To Equalize Taxes

By Associated Press

A bill designed to equalize the tax share between companies renting publically-owned facilities and owning their own plants was presented to the legislature's Revenue Committee Tuesday.

Sen. Jerome Warner's LB1257 would require all improvements which are on rented public land to be assessed for tax purposes rather than only the improvements constructed by the tenant.

Deputy Lancaster County Atty. Bob Gibson said the taxes being assessed against firms renting land and buildings from the city of Lincoln at the old Air Force base are "merely a token" compared to revenue from private land.

The Nebraska Stock Growers Association opposed a provision of the bill which would also require the lessee to pay taxes on the land based on the actual value as determined by the county assessor.

The law now establishes one year's rent as the basis of taxation.

The measure was among four receiving public hearing by the committee, which adjourned without taking action.

No objections were raised on the committee-sponsored LB1360 which would impose an annual $10 occupation tax on each mechanical amusement devices, such as a pinball machine, in lieu of a sales tax.

Committee Chairman Jules Burbach of Crofton reported figures which show such devices take in $9.20 a week on the national average. That would yield $9.58 per year to the state under the 2% sales tax.

The measure also would resuire a $100 per year registration fee for each pinball machine operator.

The chief of the tax commissioner's legal division, Del Rasmussen, testified that the collection of the sales tax on amusement devices is next to impossible because auditing machinery is inadequate.

Three Airmen Killed

Osan, Korea (UPI) — An explosion and fire destroyed a hangar at the U.S. Air Force base, killing three airmen and injuring two others.

Visit Scheduled By Loan Officer

A Small Business Administration (SBA) loan officer will visit Lincoln May 7 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in order to assist Nebraska industry and businessmen on a person-to-person basis.

The officer will hold interviews at 5801 O St. in the office of Joseph A. Tresnak, state executive director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Author Of 'Aerobics' Says Regular Exercise Important

Regular exercise can play an important role in achieving optimal health, according to Lt. Col. Kenneth H. Cooper, M.D., who is nationally known for his book "Aerobics."

In a speech to the Nebraska Dental Association (NDA) Tuesday, Cooper spelled out the definition of physical fitness and stressed the effect of regular exercise on the physiological systems of the body.

He also outlined the laboratory and field methods of evaluating fitness.

Cooper, who has played an important part in the aerospace program, said "there are clinical conditions that may be related to physical inactivity." He further explained that "other facts that affect fitness are aging, alcohol and cigarette smoking."

18 Honored

Tuesday evening, the NDA honored 18 dentists who have been members of the association for 50 years

The eighteen are Dr. Paul D. Fleming of Beaver City, Dr. Harry M. Gradwohl of Lincoln, Dr. Clarence B. Johnson of Alma, Dr. George A. Leschinsky of Grand Island, Dr. Glenn E. Mahan of Gothenburg, Dr. Paul B. Muffly of Omaha, Dr. Carl R. Peterson of Osceola, Dr. Louis A. Proskovec of Columbus, Dr. Leland V. Sharp of Stromsburg.

Dr. Howard Yost of Grand Island, Dr. Walter B. Bering of Cedar Rapids. Dr. William J. Brennan of Omaha, Dr. Elmer F. Hardlannert of Omaha, Dr. Walter L. Hull of Fairbury, Dr. William J. Korbel of Utica, Dr. Alvin B. Rosenau of Hastings, Dr. Joseph M. Wachter of Omaha, and Dr. Finis C. Reese of Nebraska City.

Others Meet

In conjunction with the NDA convention, three other dental organizations are meeting in Lincoln.

The Nebraska Chapter of the International College of Dentists re-elected the following officers:

Dr. Leo Beattie of Ainsworth, president; Dr. Lyle Furst of York, president-elect; Dr. Wallace Lamphere of Lincoln, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Herbert S. Jackson of Beatrice, reporter; Dr. Ed Hinrichs of Lincoln, deputy regent and Dr. V. L. Beck of Hastings, counselor.

New officers of the Nebraska Section of the American College of Dentists are:

Dr. Eugene Merchant of Lincoln, president; Dr. B. J. Moran of Lincoln, vice president, and Dr. Karl Bruce of Omaha, secretary-treasurer.

Also meeting was the Nebraska graduate chapter of Delta Sigma Delta.

Elected grandmaster of the organization was Dr. G. G. Pejsar of Lincoln.

State Ed Board Arranging To Hire Lawyer

Norfolk (AP) — Dr. Allen Burkhardt of Norfolk, chairman of the State Board of Education, said Tuesday the board is arranging to employ an attorney to represent it in prospective moves to remove Dr. Floyd Miller as state education commissioner.

Lincoln lawyer Asa A. Christensen has been approached to accept the appointment as the board's attorney in the matter, subject to board approval, he said.

Employment of special counsel came on the advice of Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer, Dr. Burkhardt said.

"We have written to the attorney general, asking him since the board is a constitutional organization and the board members are constitutional officers, if he would represent the board at any meetings we might have in connection with this matter," he said.

"And in reply he said that since he had given so many opinions through the years to the commissioner of education he thought there might possibly be some confusion or conflict of interest, so he authorized the board to employ outside counsel and authorized them to pay such counsel out of funds in the Department of Education account."

Dr. Burkhardt said no date has been set for a board meeting to discuss the future of Dr. Miller. The board will be guided by the advice of its special attorney, he said.

Tiemann Signs Public Employes Collective Bargaining Legislation

Gov. Norbert Tiemann Tuesday signed into law major legislation enacted this week to permit public employes to organize and bargain collectively with governmental employers.

The law will become effective 90 days after the 1969 Legislature adjourns.

Under the act, passed in the form of LB15 on a 27-19 vote Monday, the Court of Industrial Relations will be armed with authority to resolve disputes between government employes and employers.

The proposal, presented to the Legislature by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, had the strong support of organized labor.

Tiemann signed the bill at a brief ceremony attended by a number of lawmakers.

The Campus In Turmoil:

New Breed Of Student Leaders Is Emerging

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the ninth installment of a 12-part series.)

By WALTER M. MEEK
With M. STANTON EVANS

A new breed of student leaders seems to be surfacing out of the turmoil of the radical revolt on American college campuses.

Its members oppose the violent and disruptive tactics of the New Left, but they're definitely not wedded to the status quo.

They are critics of higher education, pledged to fundamental changes in the universities and to a strong, rational student voice in university affairs. And they're willing to work for it.

Sometimes sympathetic to the views of the left-wing minority, they invariably support the broad goals of the black student movement.

Taking Charge

This new breed can be found taking charge at Harvard, Colorado, San Francisco State and dozens of campuses in between. They are even organizing regionally and nationally.

Here are some samples:

Steve Diaz is a 20-year-old junior at San Francisco State College, a school under continuous police protection or occupation for more than three months.

As we talked in a hallway of the BSS Building at S.F. State we were jolted by a sharp blast in a stairwell a few feet away, then the crash of a heavy steel trash can coming down on the floor above.

Diaz, small and wiry, hardly flinched. "Just another bomb," he said.

Diaz is chairman of the United California Students for an Academic Environment. Born at S. F. State, CAE has formed a statewide organization embracing 30 campuses.

Short Term Goal

Its short term goal is to help end violence and disruption at California schools. Diaz said:

"We believe the radical left has been able to do what it has because of a leadership void among students and administrators. They've exploited legitimate and imagined ills for their own ulterior motives.

"The only reason these things have lasted more than two weeks on any campus is that they discovered that students don't like to have police on campus. Nobody's going to point out that you're a violent, pushy little demagogue as long as you look oppressed by heavy authority."

But CAE's goals go beyond restoring order. "Once we eliminate the violence the issues will still have to be solved," Diaz said.

Wants Reorganization

Diaz aims at nothing less than reorganization of the California college and university systems.

Diaz and CAE speak of: more autonomy for each campus; less bureaucracy; fewer "civil service mentalities" in administrations; stronger presidents with authority to make changes.

A kindred soul 1,500 miles to the east is Pat Stimer, new president of the Associated Students of the University of Colorado at Boulder. He fervently wishes that politicians and nervous university officials would quit focusing on the radical Students for a Democratic Society "so that we could get down to some important issues."

"Real Issue"

"The real issue is that there's a larger society out there, and the university has to deal with it," said Stimer.

He plans a campaign to begin restructuring university curriculums. He wants them to be more innovative, to cut across the lines of narrow subject areas, to put social and political problems in human perspective for students. He wants college to emphasize personal growth at least as much as career preparation.

At the University of Washington in Seattle, the aggressive new student government has a whole agenda of projects, including a campaign against the "publish or perish" system by which faculty are hired and fired.

But the first concern, according to student vice-president John Mosier, is the expected spring uprising of SDS. "If there isn't an effective student government here, the radical left can throw this campus into turmoil," he said.

Effective student government across the nation is the goal of a dozen voluntary college "dropouts" who occupy a sparsely furnished suite of offices in Washington, D.C. They are the staff of the new national headquarters of the Associated Student Governments of the U.S.A.

Termed Obsolete

Steve Snyder, 22-year-old treasurer and former student body president at the University of Alaska, says, "I'm beginning to be a firm believer that American education is obsolete. Everything is squared off in little cubicles.

"I feel I can go out and get a job and live comfortably in typical middle class American fashion, but it's not enough. I'm not worried about a job like my parents were. Kids today want to get involved. We think student government can be viable in representing students and in influencing the direction the university takes."

With all of that, the political cast of A.S.G. is most Republican and definitely anti-New Left.

The organized moderates are finding that community support stops short of financing. "They think we're kids playing games," says Bruce Angell, CAE treasurer at S.F. State.

It's debatable how effective the new breed can be. Ed Wynn, a Berkeley graduate student and an outspoken Negro moderate, is doubtful. "The administrations will talk but not change. The worst thing from their point of view is for a strong student coalition to arise and take some of their power."

Which leaves unanswered the fundamental question posed by the radicals: who is going to lead campus youth?

NEXT: The emergence of the New Right on campus.

X MERLE HALE FOR CITY COUNCIL

Merle Hale is a qualified, thoroughly experienced business and civic leader—with time to give priority to city problems—who believes:

- Lincoln should review and update its Comprehensive City Plan and zoning policies.
- A full fledged street improvement program, including construction of the Northeast Diagonal, should be initiated at once.
- Government should create a climate that encourages other citywide improvements.
- Economies can be effected without curtailing city services through a business approach.

Two Alternative Aid Bills Advanced

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Tuesday declined to choose between two major bills providing financial assistance to cities and counties until it has had an opportunity to study later fiscal information.

With that thought in mind, lawmakers gave first round floor approval to alternative financing proposals, thus delaying a final reckoning between the two measures.

Sent to select file on a 33-10 vote was LB286, which would transfer from the counties to the state the financial responsibility for mental patient care costs.

The bill would increase state budgetary demands by $25 million a biennium.

Advanced on a 37-1 count was LB578, which would enact a 1% county-city sales tax to provide assistance to governmental subdivisions.

That bill would raise $30 million a year, and allocate 60% of the funds (about $18 million) to the counties and 40% (or about $12 million) to the cities.

LB578 is particularly designed to provide funding for county mental patient care costs, and thus serves as an alternative approach to LB286.

Twenty senators participated on a full morning's discussion on the two proposals. Watching the debate from crowded balconies were parents of retarded children.

LB286, chiefly sponsored by Sen. Elmer Wallwey of Emerson, would also authorize the Department of Public Institutions to formulate rules and regulations to help determine what share of patient care costs can be reasonably borne by the patient and his relatives.

Affected institutions are the state hospitals at Lincoln, Norfolk and Hastings, the Beatrice State Home for mentally retarded persons, and the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute in Omaha.

A growing list of counties are bumping into their 14.28-mill constitutional property tax limit due to continuing financial pressures complicated by the patient care obligation.

Alternative Means

Sen. William Skarda of Omaha said he would prefer to provide the counties with an alternative means of raising more revenue than to accept the $25 million biennial cost as a state obligation.

But a number of lawmakers said the cost of operating mental institutions is a state responsibility, and it would be more equitably funded by state sales-income tax revenue than by varying local property tax levies.

A number of proposals to share the costs between counties and the state were discarded during the lengthy floor debate. None came to a vote.

Wallwey said the end result of LB286 would be to reduce total costs to the taxpayers, since more of the burden will be borne by financially capable relatives of patients.

Senators Cautioned

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine cautioned senators to keep some financial responsibility at the county level in order to discourage counties from "using state institutions as dumping grounds," thus avoiding social costs at the local level, but increasing state funding requirements.

Voting against advancing the bill: Adamson, Batchelder, Mrs. Craft, Kremer, Nore, Mrs. Orme, Robinson, Simpson, Warner and Whitney.

LB578 was signed by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, but rewritten by the Revenue Committee with his consent.

The $30 million aid program would replace the current $10 million annual governmental subdivision fund, which is now divided on a basis of $8 million a year for cities and $2 million for counties.

Tax Relief

LB578 would provide local property tax relief both at the city and county level, Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton noted.

Counties would receive about $3.5 million in additional annual assistance above the mental patient care costs, and cities would get an additional $4 million.

Local assistance would increase annually as sales tax revenue grew.

Sen. Willard Waldo of Dewitt suggested that sales-income tax revenue could better be used for increased aid to schools, reducing property tax levies at the level where they are most inequitable.

Waldo offered a motion to kill the bill, but withdrew it for later consideration when senators again debate the two proposals.

Voting against advancing the measure was Sen. Ellen Craft of North Platte.

Aid For People Displaced By Road Job Asked

A bill was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday to aid persons displaced from their homes, businesses or farms because of the construction of a highway.

The measure, LB1382, sponsored by the Public Works committee, would allow these persons to be compensated for moving and other expenses, such as earning losses, that might occur and not be covered by a normal eminent domain condemnation award.

It would also authorize the State Roads Department to give advisory assistance to persons forced to relocate because of highway construction.

Enactment of the bill would fulfill a new federal requirement for state highway programs. Failure to enact it could lead to loss of federal highway funds, Public Works Chairman Rick Budd of Nebraska City said.

Pilot Education Clinics Slated At Three Towns

By Associated Press

The State Aeronautics Department said Tuesday it and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) will hold three "pilot education clinics" across the state during May.

The clinics are part of a two-year FAA program aimed at reducing general aviation accidents, the department said. The three will be held in Grand Island on May 3 and 4, in Lincoln on May 17 and 18, and in North Platte on May 24 and 25.

All of the clinics will feature the "FAA Lancers," a special aviation education team, as well as speakers from the State Aeronautics Department, local pilots and industry spokesmen.

The Calendar Says It's Spring

Just in case you haven't realized it, today is the last day of April. And, if you can believe your wishful thinking you'll be sure all of the other spring accessories are here to stay.

Of course, the residents of suburbia are more than busy with spring activities — lawns and gardens and nieghborhood get togethers — but they also have some very interesting plans that don't relate directly to the season.

One of those exciting things we've learned is that Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Reilman will be going to St. Louis, Mo., sometime this summer to see a performance of the St. Louis Ballet Company. Their special interest in the production will be Mrs. Heilman's sister, Miss Cheri McCullough, who will join the company in May.

Miss McCullough, by the way, is a Lincoln lass and a former Miss Lancaster County. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCullough, reside at 346 B.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vosta had a busy time last weekend when they visited Mr. Vosta's mother, Mrs. Rose Vosta in Crete and Mrs. Vosta's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lehr, in Ashland. Last Saturday afternoon the Southbrook Summit residents drove to Crete where they were guests of Mr. Vosta's mother and on Sunday, they were in Ashland where they were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lehr and where they were joined by Mrs. Vosta's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lehr.

Mrs. Robert Ruyle entertained the members of the Gateway Gourmet Extension Club at an evening meeting in her Eastborough home on Thursday, April 24. During the meeting the group discussed plans for a tour of several Lincoln businesses and decided to have a covered dish dinner on Thursday evening, May 8, at the home of Mrs. Rodney Creathbaum.

Weekend guests at the Eastborough home of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Logsdon were Mrs. Logsdon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert O'Neill, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Matousek and their children, Ronnie, Ricky and Danny, all of Grand Island.

Although she probably wasn't a bit impressed, young Eastborough resident, Miss Heather Jo Cranwell was the center of attention last Sunday. There was a family dinner, given in honor of her baptism for which her great uncle and aunt, Sen. and Mrs. Rayme Whitney of Chappell, were host and hostess at their Lincoln residence.

Other dinner guests were Miss Cranwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cranwell; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. James Putman of Ogallala; her uncle, Robert Putman, and her great-uncle and great-aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McClung of Big Springs.

Mrs. Putman and Mr. and Mrs. McClung were weekend house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cranwell. Saturday evening, April 27, they attended the Wesleyan Players' production of "The Admirable Crichton" in which Mrs. Putman's son, Robert, appeared.

Cabaret Ball

Many, many calendars in Lincoln and its environs are wearing a circle these days — and this decor will be particularly noticeable around the date of Friday, May 16. That is the night of the Cabaret Ball which is to be held in the ballroom at Hotel Cornhusker. The black-tie affair includes dinner and dancing, plus the appearance of a very special entertainer — Dennis Morgan.

We have mentioned the Cabaret Ball before this morning, so you already know that it is sponsored by the Lancaster Unit of the American Cancer Society, and that all of the proceeds will go to that very worthy organization.

The additional news concerning the Cabaret Ball involves its committees which are hard at work completing all of the details.

One of the important committees is the one in charge of tickets and invitations, and perhaps right now it should be stated that the Ball reservations should be made by Friday, May 2 — But back to the invitations and tickets committee — its chairman is Mrs. Patrick Healey, and serving with Mrs. Healey are Mrs. William Griffin, Mrs. Gordon Pejsar, Mrs. Donald Dibbern and Mrs. John G. Desmond, Jr.

Mrs. Jennings Keenan is the general chairman of the mid-May festivity, and one of her hard-working committees comes under the heading of "Show Participants." The group is headed by Mrs. Richard Childs, chairman, who is being assisted by Mrs. John Prentiss, Mrs. Dale Williamson, Mrs. Jean Greene, Miss Helen Snyder, Miss Jill Eiche, Mrs. Thomas Ludwick, Miss Peggy Walkenhorst, Lt. Gov. John Everroad, Mrs. William Wiley, James Exon, Wallace Richardson, Robert McCracken, Jerry Mapes and Thomas Lawrie.

Decorations play no small part in any gala affair, and the Cabaret Ball, of course, will have a most attractive decor. In charge of this very special feature are co-chairmen, Mrs. Robert Simon and Mrs. Ted Andros who are ably assisted by Mrs. George Albin, Mrs. Robert Lorton and Mrs. William Murrell.

Then, of course, every show has its headliners, and every headliner and company has a stage setting. The "sets" committee includes Mrs. Sam Davidson, Mrs. Joe R. Seacrest and Mrs. Curtis D. Kimball.

The show script is in charge of James Hewitt, Mrs. Jerry Solomon and Mrs. Brien Hendrickson, and the performance is to be directed by Dean Tschetter. On hand to supervise makeup will be Miss Helen Coleman.

Banquet

Honored at the annual banquet of the University of Nebraska department of physical education for women, held Saturday at the Hotel Lincoln, were graduating seniors of the department.

Banquet speaker was Dr. Celeste Ulrich of North Carolina College, Greensborough, N.C., and annual awards were presented by Dr. Dudley Ashton, department chairman.

Poets To Meet

The state-wide meeting of the Midwest Federation of Chaparral Poets will be held at the Hotel Cornhusker on Saturday and Sunday. Presiding will be Madeline Swain of Grand Island, state regent.

Opening lead — queen of spades.

A fine declarer makes not only the tricks that really belong to him but also some that don't. These additional tricks are often the result of a calculated effort by him to induce a mistake by the defense.

Here is an example of such a case. South is in four hearts and West leads a spade. If you look at all four hands you can see that South should go down one. The trumps are divided 4-1 and the diamonds 4-2, and he should therefore lose three hearts and a club.

But if declarer pays close attention to his knitting, he is likely to make the contract. While he does not see the opponents' cards and hence does not know that the trumps are divided 4-1, he should plan his play on the assumption that this is the case.

He realizes that a 3-2 trump break would automatically give him the contract, so he takes steps to try to overcome a 4-1 division. In line with this, he wins the spade in dummy with the ace and returns the ten of hearts.

Now put yourself in East's shoes, imagining you see only your hand and dummy's. How many players do you know who would play the six on the ten?

Most of them would cover with the Jack, and no sooner would they do this than declarer would make the hand. He would play the ace, spearing the king, cash the king of spades, ruff a spade, and lead a heart from dummy. East would make two trump tricks and a club, but South would make the contract.

Note that if declarer's first trump lead from dummy is the three, East would of course follow low. Eventually, South would lose three trump tricks and a club to go down one, because of his failure to give East a chance to make a mistake.

Abby: accept facts

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My mother is a widow in her early seventies who has been "dying' for the past 25 years. She keeps praying to die, and says she "knows" she will not live much longer. The doctors tell me there is nothing wrong with her.

It is very depressing to be around her. I want to be a loyal daughter, but I am so tired of hearing her say that she is praying to die, when there are so many people who are praying to stay alive.

The biggest problem is that she demands so much of my time. I am married and have my own family, Abby, and I just can't run over there and spend every day with her. I feel a responsibility to my mother, but she makes me feel guilty if I don't see her every single day. I have three brothers and two sisters. Have you any suggestions?

TIED TO MOM

DEAR TIED: If you've heard her "praying to die" story for 25 years, you should be used to it by now. You should also realize that she probably doesn't mean it, and she could be a little sick. Handle her as you would a demanding child. Be compassionate and patient, but firm. Give her what time you can, and don't feel guilty about the rest. Your problem is not your mother. It's your inability to accept a situation which you can't change.

DEAR ABBY: Why do parents teach their children that we are all "brothers," and therefore should not judge another by his race, color, or the church he goes to. But when their own son or daughter gets serious with someone of another race, religion or color, they wring their hands and say, "You are breaking our hearts." Why?

MADISON, WIS.

DEAR MADISON: Good question. All parents want their children to have the greatest possible happiness in life. Marriage, at its best, has many problems, but a "mixed" marriage poses even more. This is not to say that all such marriages are doomed to fail. But in a mixed marriage, the percentages are always against the house divided.

DEAR ABBY: We have a dear friend who is in her early 50s. She's attractive and younger looking and has been a widow for a few years. Her children are grown and married.

It seems that her boss, a twice married and twice divorced man in his 30s, has sold her a bill of goods. He wants to marry her! And she is apparently buying it!

We, her friends, have tried to convince her that it would be a mistake to marry this man — that he is looking for a mother, not a wife. What do you think?

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: I think the most useless thing in the world is unsolicited advice. Save yours.

Spring Makeover

Josephine Lowman

There are many women who are seriously overweight but I think there are just as many, or more, who remain chronically just 5 to 10 pounds overweight. While the latter is not such a threat to health, it can make the difference between a truly lovely figure and one which is a little chubby or matronly.

Are you just 5 or 10 pounds away from a youthful silhouette? If so, you can lose the unwanted weight quickly by following my Nine Day Diet which is now appearing in my column. I am printing menus each day for the following day as part of my quick SPRING MAKEOVER. Most women who follow it lose 6 or 7 pounds, some as much as 10, and practically all at least 5 pounds.

These are the menus for tomorrow.

BREAKFAST

One poached egg on toast
Black coffee

LUNCHEON

One medium hamburger cake (cooked without butter and made of lean meat)
Celery sticks
One glass skimmed milk
Two raw carrots

DINNER

Small lean steak
One-half cup cauliflower
One baked potato (No butter. Medium sized potato has only about 90 calories)
One orange
One glass skimmed milk before bedtime

If you have missed some of the menus or would like to have the complete diet in booklet form send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Lincoln Star.

Bill Permitting Freeholder Petition Transfers Advanced

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Education Committee advanced to the floor Tuesday an amended bill permitting freeholder petition transfers from elementary and non-accredited school districts to accredited kindergarten-through-twelfth-grade (K-12) districts.

Under committee-sponsored LB1378, any landowner or renter with school age children can petition directly to the board of a school district to which transfer of homestead lands is being sought.

While the committee advanced LB1378, it held a companion bill, LB1377, prohibiting the formation of any new school except unified K-12 districts after July 1, 1970.

Possible Amendment

Committee Chairman Lester Harsh said LB1377 was held for decision and possible amendments during the committee session Wednesday.

Sen. Henry Pedersen of Omaha, a co-sponsor, said the two bills are "compromises" to controversial LB1342, which would have provided for mandatory school district reorganization into K-12 districts of 1,400 pupils or 550 square miles. That bill has already died in committee.

Pedersen said LB1378 gives an individual landowner "freedom of choice" in getting his children into an accredited K-12 district.

Likewise, Pedersen said, LB1377 does not force any school district to reorganize, but it does declare any new districts formed after 1970 "must be unified K-12 districts as the public policy of Nebraska."

Backing Measure

Support for the two bills came from the Nebraska State School Boards Association and the Nebraska State Education Association.

However, S. H. (Zeke) Brauer Jr., executive secretary of the Nebraska School Improvement Association (NSIA), charged the freeholder petition measure "is not freedom of choice."

"There's no freedom of choice for transferring from the big city schools to rural districts for people who want to escape from the big school systems," he said.

"It would permit people to jump out of Class I (elementary) districts, but provide no goal for reorganization. It would be chaos."

Stop Formation

Brauer also said LB1377 would stop the formation of any new Class VI (rural high school) districts.

"The bill is mandatory reorganization, in effect," he said, "because many rural and small town areas planning Class VI districts would be stopped in their tracks."

"The NSIA is not opposed to reorganization, but is only trying to hold onto the reorganization 'options' we now have," he said.

Retain Provisions

The Nebraska Stock Growers Association urged the committee to retain provisions for merger of small elementary districts into a larger elementary district and the Class VI high school district.

Bob Hanna of Valentine, association spokesman, said Class VI option is needed "in the rural, sparsely populated areas."

"It is the only educational solution there," he added.

Stifling Schools

But Sen. Orval Keyes of Papillion said Class VI districts are being used in some rural areas to "stifle" the school systems of cities and small towns.

In other action, the committee killed LB1057, proposing to revise the present formula for state aid to schools.

Advanced was LB1098, providing for partial refund of teacher certificate application fees, while LB1097, setting up budget and notice procedures for Educational Service Units, was held.

Marvel Says Pending Bills Would Double Taxes

Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings Tuesday said both sales and income tax rates would have to be doubled to support state agency budgetary needs and pending legislation which calls for increased spending.

Pending bills would cost nearly $95 million if they are eventually approved by the Legislature, Marvel said.

Furthermore, he told the Legislature, Gov. Norbert Tiemann's claim that his executive budget proposal could be funded within the limits of a 10% personal income tax and a 2½% general sales tax "will not hold water."

The governor's budget would "cost much more than this," Marvel said.

The Budget Committee chairman was prompted by questioning from Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who asked whether pending proposals would not force the 2% sales tax rate to 4%, and the personal income tax rate from 10% to 20%.

Marvel thereupon distributed copies of a fact sheet estimating the cost of 18 pending bills. The total figure was $94,845,578.

Not included in the list is the proposal to fully fund state aid to education, a bill whose costs approach an additional $40 million a year.

Budgetary discussion erupted on the floor as senators probed a major proposal to transfer mental patient care costs from county governments to the state. The fiscal impact of that bill is figured at $25 million for the biennium.

"What we do today will set the tone for the rest of the session," Marvel cautioned.

Senators advanced two bills providing assistance to cities and counties, in effect delaying a choice between alternative proposals.

Marvel's fact sheet indicated that legislation already enacted will cost $752,223 in general fund money.

The list of pending proposals:

LB19, extending medicaid, $14,147,265.
LB65, telecommunications building, $3,400,000.
LB177, Omaha vocational technical school, $1,000,000.
LB209, increased welfare, $2,056,049.
LB286, mental patient care costs, $25,112,047.
LB453, Boys Training School gymnasium, $640,000.
LB464, food inspections, $404,617.
LB514, aid to dependent children, $1,051,514.
LB538, state aid to nursing schools, $765,225.
LB601, Eastern Boys Training School, $8,454,840.
LB619, aeronautics cash fund, $1,936,120.
LB632, school aid, $3,109,030.
LB852, medical assistance, $11,200,000.
LB855, mental retardation, $2,135,359.
LB941, aid to area vocational technical schools, $2,709,000.
LB978, student loans, $14,467,052.
LB1229, student fees, $781,000.
LB1280, aid to junior colleges, $1,476,460.

Jet Overshoots Runway; No One Reported Injured

Lansing, Mich. (UPI) — A United Air Lines jetliner with 77 passengers and a crew of six overshot a rain-slick runway while landing Monday causing minor damage to the craft but no injuries.

The Boeing 737 ended up about 300 feet beyond the main east-west runway at Capital City Airport mired in a foot of mud.

The flight originated in Lincoln, Neb., with stops in Chicago and Grand Rapids, Mich. It was destined for Cleveland, Ohio, and Newark, N.J.

Measure Requiring Payments From Parents Of Deaf, Blind Students Held

The Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee voted Tuesday to hold a bill which would require parents of students at Nebraska schools for the blind and deaf to pay the costs of their childrens' board and room.

The decision to hold the bill for possible amendment came after a kill attempt failed on a 3-4 vote.

More than 100 parents of deaf and visually handicapped children turned out during a public hearing to protest the measure, Emerson Sen. Elmer Wallwey's LB1354.

Wallwey said the proposal was the result of an interim study committee. He said the bill would equalize between the situation now faced by parents of mentally retarded children who must pay such costs when their children attend the Beatrice State Home for the mentally retarded.

"What's fair for one should be fair for the other," he suggested.

The parents at Tuesday's hearing countered with claims that the bill was "discriminatory and unfair." One opponent, Gene Agee of Omaha, said the bill might be unconstitutional "because it is class legislation."

Other opponents said there was a difference between the education afforded the retarded and the visually handicapped or deaf.

Charles M. Gallehon of Omaha said the deaf or blind student "is not a liability to the state but an asset." Students leave the special schools and become tax-paying citizens, he contended.

Sen. Hasebroock Named Chairman Of Conflicts Unit

The newly-formed Conflicts of Interest Committee Tuesday elected Sen. W. H. Hasebroock of West Point as its chairman.

The committee was created by LB75, under which a code of ethics is developed so that activities of government employes and representatives will not conflict with public interest.

The committee reported that June 13 is the deadline for the filing of initial reports of income, investments and business interests of legislators, constitutional officers, members of independent boards and commissions, directors and officers of public power districts and those employes earning $6,000 a year or more.

Other committee members are Sens. Fred Carstens of Beatrice, George Syas of Omaha and Leslie Stuil of Alliance from the Legislature, Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer and lay members David Osterhout of Crete and the Rev. Dr. Robert Palmer of Lincoln.

License Okayed For Kraal Club

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday recommended approval of a bottle club license for Ben Dolan for the Kraal Club at 3735 No. First.

No one appeared in opposition to the application at a public hearing Tuesday before the board.

Guard Moves Into Illinois, N.C. Cities

By United Press International

National Guard troops Tuesday were ordered into Cairo, Ill., and Winston-Salem, N.C. — two cities racked by nights of gunfire, firebombing and brick throwing in black neighborhoods.

Police in other cities were on the alert for new outbreaks of racial violence. With the coming of spring weather, tensions in many communities mounted.

The Illinois National Guard was ordered into the historic river town of Cairo after three nights of strife, capped when rifle fire drove back policemen and firemen early Tuesday.

Armed Illinois National Guardsmen took up posts at a hospital and an auto agency in the historic river town of Cairo to enforce a 9 p.m. curfew. Police reported no incidents Tuesday night.

3 Exchanges Told

Similarly, North Carolina Gov. Bob Scott sent 150 to 200 guardsmen to Winston-Salem following two nights of vandalism by roaming bands of Negroes. Twelve small fires, six store break-ins and three exchanges of gunfire were reported in the tobacco city Monday night.

San Francisco was wary following a flare-up between a police tactical squad and members of the Black Panthers Party Monday. Hundreds of police moved into the city's Fillmore District to put down that disturbance.

Police armed with carbines patrolled the streets of Linden, N.J., enforcing a 9 p.m. curfew imposed because of an outbreak of window smashing and firebombing by gangs of youths.

Mayor John R. Gregorio declared the curfew late Tuesday and ordered all liquor stores closed after scattered incidents of vandalism during the day.

At Winston-Salem, police hoped to keep the lid on a Negro district which has undergone gunfire, fires and brick throwing. The situation was much the same at Linden, N.J., where helmeted police chased more than 200 black youths from the business section Monday night.

Convicts Feuding

Even a penitentiary was not immune. All convicts at California's San Quentin Penitentiary except those performing essential services were ordered locked in their cells Tuesday in hopes of quelling racial feuds which have left three blacks dead and four whites wounded.

Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie ordered 175 Guardsmen to Cairo, where the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers meet, after rifle fire from a Negro housing project drove off policemen and firemen during the night.

Monday night and early Tuesday, eight firebombs were thrown and gunfire twice spat from the Pyramids Court housing project. Firemen and policemen called to a fire-bombed health department building had to retreat.

Regional Pollution Unit Considered

Establishment of a regional air pollution control agency incorporating the City of Lincoln and Lancaster County is being considered by both city and county officials.

Carl Kopines, assistant city attorney, told Air Pollution Advisory Board members Tuesday that an amendment to state legislation is now being considered that would permit expansion of the boundaries of the present city program to include a countywide regional program.

Kopines said the amendment, if introduced and passed by the Unicameral, would give county commissioners pollution control.

'No Reason'

"The county could establish and enforce different standards than what the city has, but there is no reason why they could not adopt our standards," he said.

Kopines said the City-County Health Department would still administer the air pollution control program.

He said after the meeting tha one reason for having countywide control is that "pollution of the air does not stop at the city limits."

Asking $45,000

Les Sanger, air pollution control officer, told the board he has submitted an application for $45,000 in federal funds for continuation of the present air polution control program.

Sanger said the local body would have to pay for $15,000 out of the total $60,000 project with all of the local money to be for personnel.

He said the three-to-one basis of federal participation is contingent upon the state authorizing the county to become part of the regional program.

Sanger said otherwise the federal government would participate on a two-to-one basis, which will mean receiving $30,000 in grants. He said other items of the budget would be either cut or reduced.

Nebraska Society Of Technologists Slate Conference

A speech on the anatomy of handwriting will highlight a banquet Saturday night of the Nebraska Society of Medical Technologists, who will meet for a two-day spring seminar Friday and Saturday at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

The seminar, sponsored by the Nebraska society and the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, will also be attended by technologists from South Dakota, Iowa and Kansas

High Soviet Dies

Moscow (AP) — Lt. Gen. Anatoly Kadomtsev, 49, commander of Soviet airborne antiaircraft defense, "tragically died while performing his duties," the news agency Tass reported. It did not specify the cause or date of death.

Lincolnite Faces Obscene Picture Possession Count

A Lincoln man has been charged in Lancaster County Court with a felony offense of possessing obscene pictures with the intent to sell, loan or give them away in connection with a Sunday incident in which three children allegedly were shown the pictures.

Elgie W. Hale, 38, of 138 So. 19th, specifically charged with possessing with intent to circulate obscene, lewd, indecent or lascivious books, pictures and photographs, requested a preliminary hearing which was set for May 14.

According to police, a family including three children, ages 10, 12 and 13, had stopped after church Sunday at the Hale residence and Hale reportedly showed the allegedly obscene pictures to the children.

Damages Sought In Skating Mishap

A $25,000 suit has been filed in Lancaster District Court against the Arena Roller Skating Center in connection with injuries sustained by Adeline S. Bruner when she was thrown to the floor by the impact of another skater running into her.

The plaintiff alleges that on Feb. 25, 1968, she was a patron of the skating center, operated by defendant, Seth Scott, when another unidentified patron, "skating at a high rate of speed in the direction opposite of other skaters" collided with the plaintiff throwing her to the floor.

As a result of the fall, the plaintiff received fractures requiring casts and splint and hospitalization.

She alleges negligence on the part of the defendants in failing to engage sufficient employes to prevent reckless skating by patrons and in allowing skaters to skate recklessly and in such a manner as to endanger safety of others.

4 Children Die In Bus

Warsaw (UPI) — An excursion bus carrying 37 school children plunged off a mountain road into a 16-foot ravine near Zakopane in southern Poland, the Polish news agency PAP reported. Four children and a woman accompanying them were killed, and 33 others were injured.

FAREWELL TRIBUTE . . . paid Pastor Gage and his wife Linda, and their children, Melodie, 8, and Ricklin, 10.

Pastor Gage Honored

Members of the young adults group at College View Seventh-Day Adventist Church held a farewell program Tuesday night for its associate pastor, R. C. Gage, and his wife and two children, who are leaving to accept a pastorate in California.

Pastor Gage will serve the 3,200-member Loma Linda University Church about 60 miles from Los Angeles, where many of the members are medical students at the church's medical college on the campus.

During his four years in Lincoln, Pastor Gage has been active in the Lincoln Action Program (LAP), was a member of the Nebraska Council on Alcohol Education and Lincoln's Police Speakers' Bureau and was instrumental in opening the "Good Neighbor House," the Seventh-Day Adventist clothing distribution center at 1947 S.

Injuries In 4-Car Collision Leave Two Hospitalized

Two persons remained hospitalized Tuesday at Lincoln General Hospital with injuries suffered in a four-car accident Sunday at 16th and K, according to a hospital spokesman.

The spokesman said both were in fair condition.

They were identified as Louis J. Davies, 19, of 3035 Sheridan, the driver of one car, and a passenger in the auto, Diane C. Davies, 21, also of 3035 Sheridan.

The latter had been unconscious until Tuesday, the spokesman said.

Police said the Davies auto was involved in a collision with three other autos. The other vehicles were driven by Frank M. Sedoris, 33, of 1035 No. 52nd, John D. Gabelhouse, 22, of 7200 Lexington, and Pamela Jo Holloway, 27.

No other major injuries were reported.

Firemen Decide On 'Total Strike' For Des Moines

Des Moines, Iowa (AP) — Des Moines firemen responded to a district court order to return to work Tuesday by voting to go on "total strike" in their wage dispute with the city council.

Firemen's union officials said that means striking firemen, who had been standing by to answer calls at institutions such as hospitals, now will answer no fire calls at all.

The vice president of the Des Moines Association of Professional Fire Fighters, Jack Nicodemus, said 11 of the 330 strikers who left their jobs at 11 p.m. Monday helped battle an apartment house fire here early Tuesday.

Texas U Coed Wins Hearst Writing Honor

Washington (UPI) — Rena M. Pederson, 21, a journalism student at the University of Texas, Tuesday won the William Randolph Hearst national collegiate writing championship.

Miss Pederson, daughteer of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pederson of San Angelo, Tex., won out over seven other finalists to become the first coed to win in the nine years the awards have been presented.

At an awards luncheon on Capitol Hill, she was presented with her first place prize, a $1,500 scholarship and a gold medallion.

Steven R. Knowlton, 21, a senior at the University of North Carolina, won second-place prize of a $1,000 scholarship and a silver medallion.

Charles W. Green, 21, a senior at the University of Colorado, placed third and received a $700 scholarship and a bronze medallion.

Bronze medallions also went to the other finalists: Harold Aldrich, 22, senior, University of Florida; David E. Bourdon, 20, junior, University of Maryland; and three students at Pennsylvania State University, seniors William Epstein, 20, and Paul Leving, 21, and sophomore Stephen D. Solomon, 19.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

Rain showered on Manhattan last night. The sky was full of dark, rolling clouds and planes stacked up over the crowded airports. Taxi lights reflected off the wet streets, and there was a fresh smell to the city air.

This morning is misty with light fog. I had coffee and the papers sent up—The Big City is starved for newspapers. New York once devoured seven, eight or more dailies. Today it has three.

Is all well in Metropolis? Not so you could notice it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Welfare is the big problem in the city. Jammed with people who can't seem to take the jobs that employers are begging to fill.

A restaurant man says: "Dishwashers now. Admitted it's no great job, but we have to have somebody do the dishes, and we know we'll have to pay. But try to get them. Not for love or money. A week and they get their wages and they're gone."

☆ ☆ ☆

Three thousand demonstrators were milling around the Meadows in Central Park yesterday.

"Rocky has cut out welfare," cried the speaker. "And how will you get it back? Closed hospitals and overcrowding the schools!"

A bunch of helmeted horse cops kept watch on the perimeter.

The speaker shouted: "The city and state governments are saving money so they can double the tax free incomes of families like the Rockefellers and Lindsays and Lehmans!"

They talked about an hour. Then they went over to Fifth Avenue and marched to East 62nd where Rockefeller keeps an apartment.

The horse cops began moving them along. "Come on, now. Let's keep it moving."

This is everyday stuff to New York police. A horse policeman said: "Ah, we don't get riled up when they sing, 'Old MacDonald's farm had a pig' and that junk. We just don't take it personally or we'd all go nuts."

☆ ☆ ☆

This is a big service town. Restaurants, hotels, bars need a lot of service help. Waiters and dishwashers. Maids and janitors. Doormen and bellhops.

These are the jobs open to the minorities — the blacks and Puerto Ricans and displaced Cubans.

They are precisely the jobs the minorities resent.

The light-hearted tabloid Daily News gives little space to city problems. Much to the ways of a man with a maid.

I have a tender feeling for this gaudy blat. I was one of their correspondents for a time. Wiring in raucous divorce actions and such woes.

A wayward husband is tapped for $185 a week alimony and other goodies. But what entrances the Daily News is the judge's eight-page decision. His honor started out with human frailities beginning the Garden of Eden.

He wound up warning other husbands not to make the same mistake this one did.

What irked the judge was the husband went off with his secretary and failed to put in an expense account to prove it was all business.

"His failure to seek reimbursement for expenses incurred on such business trips eloquently bespeaks the nature of the business involved," said the judge. Proving he knows his New Yorkers.

After lunch to F.A.O. Schwartz toy store on Fifth Avenue. A labyrinth of track has been set up in the window. Some level, some six feet high. On them, "Space Car No. 3" climbs to a toy moon. Does loops, re-enters the atmosphere and descends to a toy earth.

It would fill a whole living room. A toy of today.

High School Journalists To Be Cited

Silver Keys for superior work by high school journalists will be awarded Saturday at the University of Nebraska School of Journalism in Lincoln.

The keys, provided by the Lincoln Journal-Star, are top prizes for individual students in the Nebraska High School Press Association's annual competition in the areas of news writing, news features, editorial writing, photography, advertising, column writing, sports writing, yearbook copywriting, and yearbook layout.

A total of 642 students representing 42 schools entered the competition.

Results of preliminary judging gave Omaha Westside High School the Sweepstakes award in Class A, Waverly High in Class B and Giltner High in Class C. Honorable mention went to Lincoln High, Superior and Hemingford.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

Everyone Gets Goofy Letters

Sports jottings while wondering how much longer we'll be able to keep prep writer Virgil Parker on the staff now that he's become a Sultan for an Omaha night club belly dancer:

Everyone in the business of trying to please Joe Public gets an occasional goofy letter, but one received a few days ago by officials at Fonner Park tops most of them. "If you'd stop spending so much money on improving the parking lot, you could pay more money for the daily double," the angry bettor wrote.

A week ago when Dave Zyglewicz tried to challenge Joe Frazier for his share of the heavyweight title, the challenger showed up 15 minutes early for the weigh-in, explaining he didn't want to have to face Frazier at the ceremonies.

After suffering an early first round knockout, it appears he should have missed the bus to the fight.

When Los Angeles Rams rookie Jim Seymour, the former Notre Dame star, was asked what NFL receiver he would compare himself to, he responded, "Who's tall, skinny and slow?"

Lincoln auto racing fans will have a chance to see this year's Indianapolis 500 on closed circuit TV at Pershing Auditorium on May 30 beginning at 10 a.m.

Devaneys Grandparents

Nebraska athletic director and football coach Bob Devaney and wife Phyllis have become grandparents with son Mike and wife Cheri Jo presenting them with a seven-pound, 12-ounce girl in Lansing, Mich.

"I'm so dumb that I forgot to ask what they named her," Devaney replied when asked about the newest honor to come his way.

Al Daugherty, who serves as Bob Schuchart's assistant at Holmes Park, is vice president of the newly-formed Nebraska Association of Assistant Golf Professionals.

Rare Feat At Hillcrest

A very, very rare golfing feat occurred at the Hillcrest Country Club when Van Duling and Jack Keeling scored back-to-back eagles on the par-5 11th hole.

Duling stepped up to his ball that was lying in the fairway 165 yards from the hole and promptly rapped it into the cup with a 5-iron.

Keeling then moved to his ball, lying a few feet in front of where Duling's was, and used an eight-iron to put his in the cup on top of Duling's.

Panic Traps Look

Panic set in at the Look Magazine offices last winter as its editors began thinking about the hitting drought that struck major league baseball last season.

The result was a treatise in the current issue entitled, "Where Have All The Hitters Gone."

A look at Tuesday's Top Ten shows you need a .345 average to make the list in the American League and a .348 mark to make it in the National League.

Golfers from the Lincoln Country Club will be involved in a series of four matches with golfers from the Omaha Country Club, Omaha Happy Hollow Country Club and Omaha Highland Country Club this summer.

The affair that will involve eight golfers from each club was set up by pros Bud Williamson Sr., John Frillman, Bob Popp and Jerry Dugan.

The four pros purchased a trophy which will go to the winning team. The first matches are set for May 10 at Highland.

Son Of Swaps Latest Derby Entrant

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Ocean Roar, a ragamuffin son of the great Swaps and a fugitive from the small tracks in Ohio, checked into Churchill Downs Tuesday for a showdown against the Big Four — Majestic Prince, Top Knight, Arts and Letters and Dike — in Saturday's 95th running of the Kentucky Derby.

The longest of long shots, the castoff chestnut immediately captured the imagination of earlyrail birds on hand for the first leg of racing's triple crown.

"We came here to run," insisted the horse's trainer, Gordie McLean. "We definitely will throw Ocean Roar's name in the box Thursday at a cost of $1,600.

"We think we can win — especially if it rains."

Ocean Roar vanned in overnight from Columbus, where last Saturday he won the decathlon handicap at Beulah Park by three quarters of a length, covering six furlongs in 1:10.

"He went on to do the mile in 1:37 and he galloped an extra eighth of a mile," McLean said. "We are not worried about the 1¼ mile distance of the Derby."

While other horses are being pulled out of Saturday's Derby in deference to the lineup of four powerful favorites, Ocean Roar is quartered in the third stall of barn 37, looking the big shots in the eye for the first time.

"He's not worried about Majestic Prince, Top Knight and the others," said the trainer, a small, sandy-haired man making his first trip to the Derby. "He can't read and I'm not about to show him the Racing Form."

Ocean Roar is owned by Leo Miller, who represents a clothing manufacturer in Columbus. Miller owns one other horse, a 3-year-old by Greek Money named Gazoont.

Ocean Roar's papa is Swaps, winner of the 1955 Derby, and he is out of a Summer Tan mare — as McLean puts it, "We got the credentials."

The colt was owned by John Galbreath of Darby Dan Farms, who sold him as a yearling to a Texas horse fancier for $8,500. The Texas man didn't like the colt and sent him back, after which Ocean Roar was picked up by Miller for an undisclosed sum.

The price was so meager — little more than peanuts — that Miller has not seen fit to disclose it.

McLean was asked why such a sagacious breeder as Galbreath would part so cheaply with a colt of such good lineage.

"Well, you might say Mr. Galbreath had his reasons," the trainer said. "We know what they were, but we think he made a mistake."

Ocean Roar won his first three races, then suffered an injury when he was kicked on a walking machine. Since then he has been racing mostly at Beulah in Columbus and Thistledown in Cleveland. His total earnings are around $19,000.

"He won a mile race at Thistledown by 15 lengths," McLean said. "In another race, the mud on the track was so deep some of his rivals collapsed. He finished, then had to be pulled out of the slop by a pony. He loves the goo."

Ocean Roar was sent to Florida but competed only in a couple of warm-up races, doing nothing. He faced none of the present favorites.

The 100-1 outsider probably will be one of seven who will go to the post Saturday — the smallest field since Citation whipped five rivals in 1948. Besides the four top entries, the others are likely to be Cain Hoy Stable's Ack Ack and another outsider, Rae Jet, owned by Mrs. Robert Harris.

The imposing, unbeaten Majestic Prince — a massive figure, 16-1 hands high and 1,120 pounds with a 75-inch girth — was the center of attention as he galloped around the track by trainer Johnny Longden.

Top Knight, Arts and Letters and Dike also worked out lightly in chilling, 45-degree weather. The forecast is for warming trends and possible weekend rain.

3 NFL Teams Eyeing Move

. . . NOTHING FINALIZED YET

New York (AP) — Pro football appeared to be swinging toward a 13-13 realignment Tuesday with three National League clubs joining the 10 American League teams in one of the two conferences of the merged leagues in 1970.

Each league met separately Tuesday, following long sessions Monday by their realignment committees. They will get together for a formal joint meeting Wednesday to pick up the work started at the mid-March meetings in Palm Springs, Calif.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Tuesday he favored (1) small divisions, (2) home-and-home series within a division and (3) retention of as much of the 10-year rivalry as is feasible.

"Shifting the three teams meets more of the significant factors than other proposals," said Rozelle in answer to questions at an impromptu news conference.

"You must remember we are talking, not of two leagues, but two conferences within the National Football League."

Art Modell, president of the NFL and chairman of the league's realignment committee, also indicated he favored moving three NFL teams.

Prominent AFL people appeared to favor this solution to the merger, agreed upon in 1966 and to be completed in 1970.

There was no indication what teams might be involved. Rozelle said, in answer to questions, that literally a team could be forced to move "but practically, I don't know."

Atlanta, Baltimore, New Orleans, Minnesota and Dallas have been mentioned in rumors.

Asked to explain the position of Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore Colts, who had indicated he might be agreeable to moving, Rozelle said, "Carroll was asked in Palm-Springs if he'd consider such a thing and he said he wanted the merger resolved and was open to anything. He did not say 'No, I won't go' but he didn't make any deal. It came out later in the papers as though he said he wanted to go and wanted to name the teams."

Ack Ack Sets Mark In Trial

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Cain Hoy Stable's Ack Ack set a track record for one mile at Churchill Downs Tuesday as he came from off the pace to score easily in the Derby Trial Stakes.

The son of Battle Joined was timed in 1:34 2-5, 1-5 second faster than the record set by Crozier in 1961 when he was enroute to a second-place finish in the Kentucky Derby.

Jockey Manny Ycaza held Ack Ack off the pace, a departure in running style for the fleet colt, but with three-eighths of a mile to go, went to the front and ended the issue within a few strides.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chaplin's Indian Emerald finished second, with Fleet Allied, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Kanowsky, third.

Trailing them, in order, were Polar Traffic, Sheik of Bagdad, Rae Jet and Jim's Gold C.

The victory undoubtedly will earn Ack Ack a start in Saturday's 95th Kentucky Derby, but probably ended all hopes for the others in the Run for the Roses.

As the odds-on favorite, Ack Ack returned $2.60, $2.20 and $2.20, while Indian Emerald paid $3 and $2.20 and Fleet Allied returned $2.20.

Aqueduct Closed 4th Straight Day

New York (AP) — Aqueduct race track will be shut down again Wednesday for the fourth straight racing day.

A meeting between the State Racing Commission and the horsemen who have boycotted the Big A since last Friday over a pension dispute, broke up late Tuesday with no indication that anything was accomplished.

"No comment" was the reply to all questions by those attending the meeting.

Montreal Icers Whip Blues, 3-1

Montreal (AP) — Montreal's power-laden Canadiens ripped through St. Louis 3-1 Tuesday night and raced into a 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals.

Goals by Ralph Backstrom, Dick Duff and Yvan Cournoyer keyed the machine-like Montreal attack as the Canadiens stretched their two year unbeaten streak against St. Louis to 16 games — six in the playoffs.

Plainsmen Breeze In Track Triangular

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

Nebraska Wesleyan rolled up an insurmountable lead by winning every field event and went on to bury Concordia and Tarkio, Mo., in a triangular track and field meet at O. N. Magee Stadium Tuesday afternoon.

The final tally was Wesleyan 115, Tarkio 43 and Concordia 31, but the Plainsmen had the meet all but wrapped up before the running events started.

NWU, with 1-2-3 sweeps in the high jump, javelin and long jump, tallied 59 points in the field to Concordia's 11 and Tarkio's 7.

Roger Sand, Howard Wigert and Kent Swanson led the way for the Plainsmen, while Concordia's Dennis Haberhern and Tarkio's Jim Moyle led their teams with two wins apiece.

Sand took the pole vault at 13-6, the 100-yard dash in :10.3 and ran a leg on the winning 440 relay quartet, which dashed to a :43.7 clocking.

Wigert, just a freshman, won the long jump (21-5½), finished inches behind Haberhern in the 330 intermediate hurdles, and ran legs on the winning NWU mile relay and 440 relay teams.

Swanson was a double winner, taking the discus (134-9) and the shot (44-3½).

Haberhern accounted for Concordia's only wins with a hurdles sweep, :16.0 in the 120 highs and :41.8 in the 330 intermediates.

Moyle gave Tarkio a sweep of the distance events by taking the mile in 4:37.4 and the two-mile in 10:20.6.

Senior Lannie Hall led a 1-2-3 Wesleyan showing in the javelin with a career best of 195-6. Sophs Harvey Meyer (187-10) and Bruce Oberhelman (178-9) were second and third.

Giants Win 8th In Row; Bosox Nip Stottlemyre

By Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants made it eight in a row Tuesday, beating the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 in 13 innings on Bobby Bonds' two-out single that scored Hal Lanier from third base. It is the longest winning streak for the Giants in three years.

Bonds had walloped a two-run homer to give the Giants a 3-2 lead in the eighth. The Reds tied it in the ninth on Bob Tolan's RBI single with two out.

The Minnesota Twins also extended their winning skein. They overpowered Kansas City 9-1 for their fourth straight and 12th triumph in their last 16 games. Harmon Killebrew's grand slam homer in the third paced the Twins.

Marty Pattin pitched a no-hitter for 7 2-3 innings and finished with a two-hitter in hurling Seattle to a 1-0 victory over California. Larry Haney's eighth-inning homer accounted for the only run.

Two homers by Ed Kranepool and the six-hit pitching of Jerry Koosman and Nolan Ryan gave the New York Mets a 2-0 shutout over Montreal in the only other day game.

Baltimore at Cleveland and St. Louis at Pittsburgh, both night games, were postponed because of cold weather. The Chicago White Sox and Oakland had an open date.

Ferguson Jenkins, backed by a robust attack, pitched a four-hitter and the Chicago Cubs bombed Philadelphia 10-0 for their fifth victory in as many games against the Phillies.

Ron Santo, who hit two sacrifice flies in the early innings, added a run-scoring single in the sixth and his fifth homer in the ninth for four runs batted in to lead Chicago's 13-hit attack.

Rookie Mike Nagy, with relief help from Sparky Lyle and batting support from another rookie, Syd O'Brien, outpitched Mel Stottlemyre in his first major league start as Boston nipped the New York Yankees 2-1.

Pitcher Milt Pappas drove in the deciding run with a fourth inning single and relief ace Cecil Upshaw pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth as the Atlanta Braves edged the luckless Houston Astros 2-1.

Mickey Stanley cracked a three-run double with one out in the ninth inning, boosting the slumping Detroit Tigers past Washington, 5-4, and ending the Senators' five-game winning streak.

South Dakotans Take Triangular

Wayne (UPI) — Southern State of South Dakota Tuesday scored 87 points to win a triangular track meet here.

Yankton College with 61 placed second and host Wayne State was third with 31.

Wayne State officials said a javelin throw of 253 feet, 3½ inches by Frank Burgasser of Wayne is believed to be among the best on the college level this year.

20 Organizations Are Honored For P.E. Work

Twenty organizations were honored for their contributions to physical fitness Tuesday noon at the annual meeting of the Lincoln Mayor's Council on Physical Fitness.

Receiving awards were the Nebraska State Penitentiary, University of Nebraska Department of women's Physical Education, Pius X High School, Nebraska State Health Department, Dairy Council of Central States, Nebraska Dental Association, Veterans Hospital, University of Nebraska Extension Division, Lincoln State Hospital, Lincoln Council of Camp Fire Girls, Lincoln Jaycees, City Recreation and Parks Department, Union College Physical Education Department, YWCA Department of Health and Physical Education, Nebraska Game Commission, Yankee Hill School, KOLN-TV, YMCA, and University of Nebraska Department of Physical Education.

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf was made an honorary member of the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness by Ted Dappen, chairman of that council.

No Belly awards were presented to Dr. Ken Cooper of the Aerospace Center, featured speaker; Schwartzkopf, Don Forsythe, sports editor of the Lincoln Journal, Hal Brown, sports editor of the Lincoln Star and Tom Hedrick, sports director of KOLN-TV.

Kemling's Hesa Kem Wins Juvenile Stakes

. . . EQUALS TRACK RECORD

Grand Island — Orville Kemling's Hesa Kem defeated Patsy Star by a half-length and equalled the track record of 46 seconds flat for four furlongs in the $4000-added Fonner Park Juvenile Stakes on the next-to-last day of the current meeting Tuesday.

Hesa Kem gave Kemling his 13th victory of the meeting and tied the track record first set by Herm's Royal on March 29, 1967. Favored Vagabond Flyer was third. Hesa Kem paid $8.40 to win.

In the eighth race, Cousin Shakib won by a neck over Wind Tone and paid $11 in the George Franco allowance. Bo Dorrin, was favored originally before becoming a late scratch and Little Blue Boy, which ran out of the money, went off as the top betting choice.

Biggest return of the day was the $45.40 that Pairagoons paid to win the fourth race.

Scranton Hollow and Idle Way won the opening two races to return a $54.40 daily double on a 6-2 ticket.

Omaha — North High won the Metro Conference track and field title at the Burke High oval here Tuesday afternoon, topping Tech, which had captured the meet the past three seasons.

The day's highlight came when the fastest 100-yard dash field in Nebraska high school history flashed across the finish line.

It took two runnings of the century to set the meet's only individual record, however. Then Dean Williams, the defending state champion in the event, broke the tape with a :09.5 clocking.

The first time the field sped down the all-weather track under sunny skies, but with a brisk tailwind, Williams won in the amazing world record time of :08.7. But meet officials discovered they had the finish-line string stretched across the track at the 90-yard mark.

The re-run at the correct distance produced the exact same order with North's Karl Webb second in :09.6, followed by Gene Washington of North in :09.7, Jim Glass of Tech in :09.8 and Benson's Martin Johnson fifth in :09.9.

The meet, which saw the preliminary session last Friday and Saturday's scheduled finals both shortened by rains, did complete two running events, the 440 and two-mile runs, and three field events, the high jump, long jump and discus during the first two days of action.

One relay record also fell as Williams anchored Tech's 880-yard quartet to a 1:30.0 timing. With a win in the 220 as well, the Trojan speedster became a triple winner.

The meet was without a champion in two events, though North's Jim Hawkins was a second triple titleholder.

Hawkins, who holds the best time in the state in both the 440 and mile won both his specialties in addition to running the anchor leg on North's winning mile relay team to cinch the league championship for the Vikings.

My, how we've grown.

The Kessler half-gallon is getting more and more popular. And we know why.

It's because people like to have a lot of that Smooth as Silk taste around. For parties and things. Nothing else quite measures up.

Van Berg Stable For Omaha Strong

. . . AK EARNINGS OVER $1 MILLION

Omaha — Marion H. Van Berg of Columbus, horse racing's top owner in number of wins, has another strong stable on the grounds at Ak-Sar-Ben in preparation for the 46-day meeting which opens Friday.

Van Berg's horses have won more races than those of any other man in the history of the sport as on April 16 at Hazel Park, he passed the 4,000th mark. No other owner has even passed 3,000 wins.

For nine straight years Van Berg, the charter member of the Nebraska Racing Hall of Fame, has led the nation in number of wins —and he is well on the way to No. 10. So far this year his horses have earned more than $25,000 and 90 wins.

Ak-Sar-Ben rules limit the number of horses a trainer can have on the grounds at 25 head. Cet, Mr. Van's horses have earned more than $1,000,000 here during the past 11 years.

Jack Van Berg has won the trainers' title here for the past 10 years. Last year he saddled 29 winners to set an Ak-Sar-Ben record. The stable won more than $141,000.

Zeppelin, Lacon and Mink were the Van Berg leaders here a year ago. Zeppelin won the $15,000-added Governors' Handicap and the $15,000-added King's Handicap while earning $19,960. Lacon picked up $13,000 and Mink added more than $11,000.

Other top horses last year were Torque Guage, Tragic Memory and Roman Judge. Van Berg also will be bringing a top Nebraska-bred, a two-year-old he believes may be one of his best home breds.

He also has obtained a top foreign bred, Zorba II, who is expected to compete in some of Ak-Sar-Ben's stakes races.

FONNER RACING

Grand Island — Fonner Park concludes its 1969 racing campaign Wednesday with a nine-race card capped by a 1 7/16 miles chase.

Sharing top weight in the finale are Beauty's Boss, Toesaburnen and Didnac at 114 pounds.

Next stop on the Nebraska circuit is Ak-Sar-Ben, which opens Friday.

Rockets Nip Pius X, 3-2

Lincoln Northeast scored all its runs in the third inning and pitcher Rick Sittner made them stand up as the Rockets edged Pius X, 3-2, at Sherman Field Tuesday.

Northeast's runs came after two were out in the third. Dan Cook, who led off the inning with a walk, stole second and came home on Jim Smith's single. After an error, John Hall blasted a two-run triple to left center for the decisive runs.

Hall saved the victory in the bottom of the seventh when he threw out losing pitcher Gary Walker from rightfield as Walker tried to score the tying run on Brad Schmidt's RBI single which brought in the second run. Two errors and John Loudon's single put Pius on the scoreboard in the fourth.

Zersen Reports Charges Planned In Fatal Accident

State Safety Engineer Ben Zersen of the State Labor Department said Tuesday that on behalf of the state, he will ask the Nemaha County attorney Wednesday to file charges as the result of the deaths of two workers in a trench cave-in last Friday.

Lester Bridgeman, 54, and James Hamilton, 27, both of Tecumseh, lost their lives in the accident at Nemaha.

Zersen, who investigated the mishap, said he will ask that charges be filed against the Rogge Engineering Co. of Julian, on grounds the 20-foot deep trench in which the men were working "was inadequately and improperly shored."

Pedersen Plans Bill To Increase Recall Powers

State Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha said Tuesday he is having a bill drafted aimed at giving the people of the state more power to remove from office controversial state officials.

Pedersen said the bill calls for a constitutional amendment to be placed on the ballot.

Pedersen said the amendment would give the people more effective recall power.

He said his action was connected with the controversy on the State Education Board concerning the possible ouster of State Education Commissioner Floyd Miller.

Pedersen also said Tuesday a resolution calling for the possible impeachment of one or more board members has been drafted and will probably be introduced next week.

Union Pickets At Brownville Nuclear Plant

An Olson Construction Co. spokesman said Tuesday that the carpenters union posted pickets at Consumers Public Power District's Cooper nuclear power plant at Brownville.

John Miller, president of the Building and Construction Employers Association, said that meetings with representatives of the 400-member carpenters union were held early this week, but that no agreement had been reached.

Miller said the carpenters were offered the same wage and added benefits that had been previously accepted by cement masons and plasterers.

Operating engineers Local 571 has been maintaining a picket line which halted all major construction projects in Lincoln, said Miller.

Market Advances Over Broad Range

New York (AP) — The trading pace hit its best level since early in the year Tuesday as the stock market advanced over a broad range and brokers reported many investors coming off the sidelines to get back into the action.

Turnover on the New York Stock Exchange, where the tape was four minutes late at the bell, came to 14.73 million shares, compared with 11.12 million shares Monday. The turnover was the highest since Jan. 7 when 15.74 million shares were traded.

The number of blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the Big Board — an indicator of institutional activity — rose to 83, compared with 58 Monday.

The Dow Jones industrial average — which gained 1.08 Monday — continued to climb, and by the close it was up 9.02 at 934.10. The advance was the best since March 4, when the Dow industrial gained 10.88.

Gains led losses from the start and expanded their advantage as trading progressed. Of 1,589 issues traded, 890 advanced, while 482 declined. New highs for the year totaled 90 and new lows 67.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks gained .45 to 57.48. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 1.5 at 333.9, with industrials up 5.6, rails off .2, and utilities up .5.

Steels generally were lower. Motors, rubber issues, electronics, chemicals and oils all had higher tones.

Bermec Corp. led the list of the 20 most-active stocks on the New York exchange, of which 13 advanced, 6 declined, and 1 was unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange volume came to 7.76 million shares, compared with 5.59 million Monday. The Amex index gained 24 cents to $30.47.

Steers And Heifers Up At Omaha

Nebraska Native Dies From Burns

Casper, Wyo. (UPI) — The second of two men critically burned in an explosion and fire in the oilfield north of Gillette, Wyo., died in a Casper hospital over the weekend.

Carlos Ramos, 29, died of burns received in an accident April 21. He and Jack Liken, 55, of North Loup, Neb., were working inside an oil storage tank when the explosion occurred. Both were thrown out of the tank. Liken died Thursday.

Ramos was born in Scottsbluff, Neb., and his body was to be returned to Scottsbluff for funeral services.

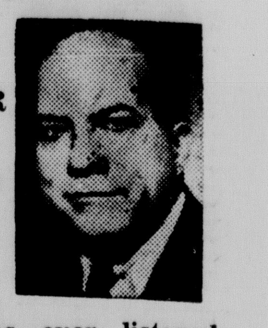
EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Economic Rehabilitation Is Obeserved In Argentina

By Merryle S. Rukeyser



MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Differences Stressed

Buenos Aires, Argentina — After more than three decades of national deterioration under military pipsqueaks, of which the most publicized was the notorious Juan Peron, Argentina is going through a process of national economic rehabilitation.

Although President Juan Carlos Ongania, was brought in by a military coup on June 6, 1966, sympathetic observers stress the points of difference between this administration and its predecessors.

First, the president, who once was the army's chief of staff, has staffed his cabinet with civilians.

Secondly, although politics, active trade unionism and the national Congress are in limbo, the administration recognizes the right of the courts to pass upon and upset its decrees.

Thirdly, under court action, after coming to regard currency inflation as a permanent way of life, the peso has been stabilized at 250 to the U.S. dollar, since the incumbent Minister of Economics and Labor Adalbert K. Vasena ushered in a 40% devaluation in March 1967 two months after taking office.

More Friendly

After years of deterioration through a bureaucracy which was Marxian-oriented, this administration is more friendly toward free enterprise, with abandonment of previous controls on foreign exchange and capital movements. Instead of implementing the proposed confiscation of foreign oil properties, ordered by the previous regime, this administration has invited foreign interests back and some have expanded their investment.

The trend toward stability after riotous inflation is deemed a miracle. It is associated with the reported "benevolence" of President Ongania, who is deemed a natural born leader, who is undramatic and matter of fact — not a brilliant original thinker, but a solid citizen who has achieved for the time being at least a consensus of trust. He is anti-politician, which term he equates with demagogue, and anti-excessive trade unionism. Like Calvin Coolidge, he believes "no one has ever listened himself out of a job."

Under the old order, Paul J. Wallin, president of the American Argentine Chamber of Commerce, warned against foreign investment in Argentina. Now the same man is promoting the idea of a flow of capital here.

Leonard Saccio, charge d'affairs of the U.S. Embassy, gave me an enthusiastic briefing on the current improved trend. Even the cautious Eberhard F. Knorr, head of the subsidiary here of the Deutsche Bank of West Germany, expressed to me the viewpoint that there is reason for qualified optimism. At the moment Argentina appears to be the most dynamic of the South American countries.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped self addressed evenlopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Career Ending

Aurora — Miss Nina R. Burke, who teaches sixth grade in the Aurora grade school, plans to retire this year to end a 40-year career in teaching. She has taught in rural Polk County, and in Dix, Belvidere, Alliance, Stromsburg and Gresham.

U.S. Working On Reusable Rockets

Washington (UPI) — A space agency official said Tuesday the United States was working on reusable rockets which could cut costs to one-tenth of present levels "by the middle 1970s."

George E. Mueller, director of manned space flight for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said NASA and the Air Force were considering "joint sponsorship" of lower cost rocket development.

"We are also studying means of reducing the cost of transportation to the moon," Mueller told the Senate Space Committee. "It is possible that the nuclear rocket may form a part of such a system."

"The future of manned space flight is clearly dependent on the degree to which operational costs can be reduced," Mueller said.

". . . U.S. space vehicles are used for only a single flight. Through reusability, it would appear that very substantial reductions in costs can be achieved."

Reusable rockets would be launched in the same fashion as a conventional rocket and go into a space orbit. But unlike current rockets, they would be able to make some sort of soft landing on earth instead of burning up on reentry or splashing down in the ocean.

"New space transportation concepts based on available and newly emerging technology, with emphasis on operational simplicity, can result in cost reductions approaching a factor of ten by the middle 1970s.

"With the maturing of operational experience later in the decade, even greater cost reductions can be expected to occur as they did when jet aircraft were introduced into commercial aviation."

The Space Committee is considering NASA's budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. President Nixon has recommended $3.71 billion, compared to $3.87 billion during the current fiscal year.

Gambling Curbs Asked

Washington (AP) — The Nixon administration asked Congress Tuesday for tough new laws against organized gambling and authority to use wiretapping in enforcing the statutes.

The new curbs were proposed in a bill, entitled "Illegal Gambling Business Control Act of 1969," transmitted by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and embodying President Nixon's gambling control proposals.

Besides wiretap authority, the proposed legislation would give the federal government two new tools to combat large-scale operations.

Under one section, the bill would make it a felony for gamblers to bribe law enforcement or public officials to obstruct enforcement of state and local gambling laws.

The other provision would, for the first time, make it a federal offense to engage in large-scale gambling activities.

By "large-scale," the proposal spelled out operations that involve five or more persons, operate for at least 30 days and gross $2,000 in revenue during a single day.

Specifically excluded were activities such as bingo games, lotteries and similar games of chance that may be conducted by tax exempt organizations like churches and church groups.

$4,800 Willed To Five Geese

Chute, England (UPI) — Mrs. Freda Ballard, who died in February at the age of 82, left $4,800 to five geese she had kept as pets for the past 15 years, authorities reported Tuesday.

Treasury Head Sells $1.2 Million In Bank Shares

Washington (UPI) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy has disposed of more than $1.2 million in bank stocks following continued charges of "conflict of interest," sources said Tuesday.

Congressional sources said the former Chicago banker has sold some 30,855 shares of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. that he had placed in trust when he took the Cabinet job.

Kennedy, former chairman of the board of Continental, the eighth largest bank in the nation, has been charged with conflict of interest several times by House Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex.

Labor Requirements On Plant At Brownville Spark Protest

Omaha (AP) — The Omaha Building Contractors Employers protested to Consumers Public Power District Tuesday that labor requirements on the Brownville nuclear plant project may "further inflate" construction costs in Omaha.

George Gilmore, vice president of the Omaha Contractors Employers group, said they object to a requirement that the successful bidder on the nuclear power plant project, which is being let on Thursday, work six nine-hour days each week.

This will mean that workmen will be given 40 hours at regular time and 14 hours of overtime, Gilmore said.

In a telegram sent to Consumers and their engineer, Gilmore said the requirement "could cause a severe shortage of craftsmen in the Omaha area.

"We urge you to remove this requirement from the specification on the basis that it adds tremendously to the already high cost of construction and may further inflate construction costs in the Omaha area by forcing contractors to pay overtime to prevent their men from applying work on your project."

"We are having enough problems now in securing competent tradesmen in Omaha without having someone offering a premium to entice them out of town,"

Crete Bond Issue Apparently Loses

Crete—A $1.8 million school bond issue was apparently rejected by voters here Tuesday.

With one precinct unreported, only 41% had expressed aproval, and election officials anticipated failure of the measure.

Proposed School Bond Issue Nixed In Schuyler Vote

Schuyler (AP) — Schuyler voters Tuesday turned down a proposed $1,450,000 school bond issue.

The vote was 481 for to 512 against. A 55% majority would have been needed for passage.

The bond issue was for additional class rooms on a grade school and construction of a new senior high school.

Nixon Honors Duke Ellington

New York Times Service

Washington — Edward Kennedy Ellington, whose ageless music has built bridges between the generations for almost half a century, was honored Tuesday night at the White House on his 70th birthday. For the night, the Duke was king.

It was the kind of evening that the guests will talk about for years. At table and on the stage after the dinner was one of the most glittering assemblages of jazz musicians ever gathered in one place.

There, in the house where his father once was a part-time butler, Duke Ellington — composer, conductor, pianist — was presented with the Presidential Medal of Freedom. It is the highest civilian medal the government can bestow and it was the first freedom medal to be presented by President Nixon.

Guests Famous

Guests on the dinner list, both in and out of the jazz field, included Benny Goodman, clarinetist; Dizzy Gillespie, trumpeter; Harold Arlen, the composer who produced "Stormy Weather" and "That Old Black Magic;" band leader and singer, Cab Calloway; Billy Eckstein, singer; Richard Rodgers, composer; Mrs. William (Count) Basie, representing her husband who is away on a European concert tour; the great Gospel singer Mahalia Jackson, and Johnny Hodges, who has been with the Ellington band since 1926, when he was 16 years old.

On stage to perform after the dinner were pianists Dave Brubeck and Earl (Fatha) Hines, Gerry Mulligan on the baritone sax, Paul Desmond on alto sax and 11 others. They gave the Duke a nostalgic sampling from his own 2,000 compositions.

The hour-long program was all Ellington and all memories: "Mood Indigo," "Satin Doll," "Solitude," "Don't Get Around Much Anymore,' "I Let a Song Go Out of my Heart," "Jump for Joy."

Age No Part

Earlier, the man who has been called "one of the least dated musicians in American jazz history" despite his 46-year span of fame, said: "What's age got to do with music?"

He told a news conference: "I don't believe in the generation gap. I believe in regeneration gaps. Each day you regenerate, or else you're not living."

His family was at the White House for one triumph among many in Ellington's long life. President Nixon received the guest of honor and his sister, Ruth Ellington, in the yellow oval drawing room on the second floor, before proceeding downstairs to dinner.

Lincolnite Honored

David Stoltzman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stoltzman of 4017 Woods Blvd., has been initiated into Alpha Chi, a national honor society at Westmar College, Le Mars, Iowa.

Church Design Award Is Given To Local Firm

A Lincoln architectural firm received an award in St. Louis, Mo., Tuesday evening for its design of an addition to First-Plymouth Congregational Church.

The officers of the National Conference on Religious Architecture presented the award to Davis, Fenton, Stange and Darling at the conference's 30th annual convention. It was one of 12 such awards presented.

The Lincoln firm was commended for providing a graceful link between the new and original church structures.
